

THE FIRST BOKE OF the Maccabees.

CHAP. I.

The death of Alexander the King of Macedonia. 11 Antiochus taketh the kingdom. 12 Many of the children of Israel make covenant with the Gentiles. 21 Antiochus subdueth Egypt and Ierusalem vnto his dominion. 30 Antiochus setteth vp idoles.

After that Alexander the Macedonian, y^e sonne of Philippe, went forthe of the land of Chettiim, & slewe Darius King of the Persiās and Medes, and reigned for him, as he had before in Grecia,

2 He toke great warres in hand, and wan strong holdes, and slewe the Kings of the earth.

3 So went he thorow to y^e ends of the worlde, and toke spoiles of many nacions, in so muche that y^e worlde stode in awe of him: therefore his heart was puffed vp and was hawtic.

4 Now when he had gathered a mightie strongholste,

5 And had reigned ouer regions, nacions and kingdomes, they became tributaries vnto him.

6 After these things he fel sicke, and knewe that he shulde dye.

7 Then he called for the chief of his seruātes, which had bene broght vp with him of children, and parted his kingdom among them, while he was yet aliue.

8 So Alexander had reigned twelue yeres when he dyed.

9 And his seruants reigned euerie one in his roume.

10 And they all caused thē selues to be crowned after his death, and so did their children after thē many yeres, and muche wickednes increased in the worlde.

11 For out of these came the wicked roote, euē Antiochus^o Epiphanes the sonne of King Antiochus, which had bene an hostage at Rome, and he reigned in the hundredreth and seuen and thirtieth yere of the kingdom of the Grekes.

12 In those daies wēt there out of Israel wicked men, which entyced many, saying, Let vs go, and make a couenant with the heathen, that are rounde about vs: for since we departed frō them, we haue had muche sorowe.

13 So this deuice pleased them wel.

14 And certeine of the people were readie, & went to y^e King which gaue thē licence to do after the ordinances of the heathen.

15 Thē set thei vp a place of exercise at Ie-

rusalē, according to the faciōs of y^e heathē,

16 And made them^a selues vncircūcised, & forsoke the holy couenant, & ioyned them selues to the heathen, and were solde to do mischief.

17 So whē Antiochus kingdom was set in order, he wēt about to reigne ouer Egypt, that he might haue the dominion of two realmes.

18 Therefore he entred into Egypt with a mightie cōpanie, with charrets, & elephan-tes, & with horsemē, & with a great nauie, 19 And moued warre against Ptolemeus King of Egypt: but Ptolemeus was afraid of him, and fled, and manie were wounded to death.

20 Thus Antiochus wanne many strong cities in the land of Egypt, and toke away the spoiles of the land of Egypt.

21 And after that Antiochus had smitten Egypt, he turned againe in the hundredreth, fortie and thre yere, 22 And went vp towarde Israel and Ierusalē with a mightie people.

23 And entred proudly into the Sanctuarie, and toke away the golden altar, and the candlestick for the light, & all the instruments thereof, & the table of y^e shewbread, and the powring vessels, and the bowles, & the golden basins, and the vaile, and the crownes, & the golden apparel, which was before the Temple, and brake all in pieces.

24 He toke also the siluer and golde, & the precious iewels, & he toke the secret treasures that he founde, & when he had taken away all, he departed into his owne land,

25 After he had murdered many men, and spoken verie proudly.

26 Therefore there was a great lamētacion in euerie place of Israel.

27 For the princes & the Elders mourned: the yong women, and the yong men were made feble, & the beautie of the women was changed.

28 Euerie bridegrome toke him to mourning, and she that sate in the marriage chāber, was in heauines.

29 The land also was moued for the inhabitants thereof: for all the house of Iacob was couered with confusion.

30 After two yeres the King sent his chief taxe master into y^e cities of Iuda, which came to Ierusalem with a great multitude.

31 Who spake peaceable wordes vnto them in discente, & they gaut credit vnto him.

32 Then he fell suddenly vpon the cite, & smote it with a great plague, & destroyed muche people of Israel.

I. Maccabees.

- 33 And when he had spoiled the citie, he set fyre on it, casting downe the houses thereof, and walles thereof on euerie side.
- 34 The womē and their children toke they captiue, and led away the cattel.
- 35 Then fortified they the citie of Dauid with a great & thicke wall, & with mightie towres, and made it a strong holde for them.
- 36 Moreover they set wicked people there, and vngodlie persones, and fortified them selues therein.
- 37 And they stored it with weapons and vitayles, and gathered the spoile of Ierusalē, and laied it vp there.
- 38 Thus became they a sore snare & were in ambushment for y^e Sanctuarie, and were wicked enemies euermore vnto Israel.
- 39 For they shed innocēt blood on euerie side of the Sanctuarie & defiled the Sāctuarie,
- 40 In so muche that the citizens of Ierusalem fled away because of them, and it became an habitacion of strāgers, being desolate of them whome she had borne: for her owne children did leaue her.
- 41 Her Sāctuarie was left waste as a wilderness: her holie daies were turned into mourning, her Sabbaths into reproche, and her honour broght to naught.
- 42 As her glorie had bene great, so was her dishonour, and her excellencie was turned into sorowe.
- 43 Also the King wrote vnto all his kingdome, that all the people shulde be as one, and that euerie mā shulde leaue his lawes.
- 44 And all the heathen agreed to the commandement of the King.
- 45 Yea, many of the Israelites consented to his religion, offering vnto idoles, & defiling the Sabbath.
- 46 So the King sent letters by the messengers vnto Ierusalem, and to the cities of Iuda, that they shulde followe the strange lawes of the countrey,
- 47 And that they shulde forbid the burnt offerings and sacrifices, and the^r offerings in the Sanctuarie,
- 48 And that they shulde defile the Sabbaths and the feasts,
- 49 And pollute the Sanctuarie and the holie men,
- 50 And to set vp altars, & groues, & chapels of idoles, & offer vp swines flesh, and vncleane beasts,
- 51 And that they shulde leaue their childrē vncircumcised, & defile their soules with vncleannes, and pollute them selues, that they might forget the Law, & change all the ordinances,
- 52 And that whosoeuer wolde not do according to the commandement of the King, shulde suffer death.
- 53 In like maner wrote he thorow out all his kingdomes, and set ouerseers ouer all the people, for to compell them to do these things.
- 54 And he commanded the cities of Iuda to do sacrifice, citie by citie.
- 55 Then went many of the people vnto thē by heapes, euery one that forsake y^e Law, and so they committed euil in the land.
- 56 And they droue the Israelites into secret places, euen wherefoeuer they colde flee for succour.
- 57 The fiftenth day of Casleu, in the hundredth and fise and fortieth yere, they set vp the abomination of desolacion vpon the Altar, & thei buylded altars thorow out the cities of Iuda on euerie side.
- 58 And before the doores of the houses, and in the stretes they burnt incense.
- 59 And the booke of the Law, which they founde, they burnt in the fyre, and cutte in pieces.
- 60 Whosoeuer had a booke of the Testament founde by him, or whosoeuer consented vnto the Law, the Kings commandement was, that they shulde put him to death by their autoritie,
- 61 And they executed these things euerie moneth vpon the people of Israel that were founde in the cities.
- 62 And in the fise and twentieth day of the moneth, they did sacrifice vpon the altar, which was in the stead of the altar of sacrifices.
- 63 And according to the commandement, they put certeine woman to death, which had caused their children to be circumcised,
- 64 And they hāged vp the children at their neckes, and they spoiled their houses, and slewe the circumcisers of them.
- 65 Yet were there many in Israel, which were of courage, and determined in them selues, that they wolde not eat vncleane things,
- 66 But chose rather to suffer death, then to be defiled with those meats: so because thei wolde not breake the holie couenant, they were put to death.
- 67 And this^r tyrannie was verie sore vpon the people of Israel.

CHAP. II.

The mourning of Mattathias and his sonnes for the destruction of the holy citie. 19 They refuse to do sacrifice vnto idoles. 24 The zeale of Mattathias for the Law of God. 33 They are slaine and wil not fight againe because of the Sabbath day. 49 Mattathias dying commandeth his sonnes to stick by the worde of God, after the example of the fathers.

- 1 IN those dayes stode vp Mattathias the Priest, the sonne of Ioonnes, the sonne of Simeon, of the sonnes of Ioarib of Ierusalem, and dwelt in Modon.
- 2 And he had fise sonnes, Ioanan called Gaddis,

- 3 Simon called Thafsi,
 4 Iudas which was called Maccabeus,
 5 Eleazar called Abaron, & Ionathá, whose name was Apphus.
- 6 Now he sawe the blasphemies, which were committed in Iuda and Ierusalem:
 7 And he said, Wo is me: wherefore was I borne, to se this destruction of my people, and the destruction of the holy citie, and thus to sit stil: it is deliuered into the hands of the enemies,
 8 And the Sanctuarie is in the hands of strangers: her Temple is, as a man that hathe no renoume.
 9 Her glorious vessels are caryed away into captiuitie: her infants are slayne in the stretes, and her yong men are fallen by the sworde of the enemies.
 10 What people is it, that hathe not some possession in her kingdome, or hathe not gotten of her spoyles?
 11 All her glorie is taken away: of a fre woman, she is become an handmaid.
 12 Beholde, our Sanctuarie & our beautie, and honor is desolate, and the Gentiles haue defiled it.
 13 What helpeth it vs then to liue anie longer?
 14 And Mattathias rent his clothes, he, and his sonnes, and put sackcloth vpon them, and mourned verie fore.
 15 ¶ Then came men from the King to the citie of Modin to compell them to forsake God, and to sacrifice.
 16 So manie of the Israelites consented vnto them: but Mattathias and his sonnes assembled together.
 17 Then spake the commissiõners of the King, and said vnto Mattathias, Thou art the chief and an honorable man, & great in this citie, and hast many children and brethren.
 18 Come thou therefore first, and fulfil the Kings commandement, as all the heathen haue done, and also the men of Iuda, and suche as remaine at Ierusalẽ: so shalt thou and thy familie be in the Kings fauour & thou and thy children shalbe enriched with siluer & golde, & w̄ manie rewards.
 19 Then Mattathias answered & said with a loude voyce, Though all nacions that are vnder the Kings dominion, obey him, and fall away euerie man from the religion of their fathers, and consent to his commandements,
 20 Yet wil I and my sonnes, and my brethren, walke in ȳ couenant of our fathers.
 21 God be merciful vnto vs, that we forsake not the Law and the ordinances.
 22 We wil not hearken vnto the Kings wordes to transgreffe our religion, nether on the right side, nor on the left.
 23 And when he had left of speaking these wordes, there came one of the Jewes, in the sight of all to sacrifice vpon the altar which was at Modin, according to the Kings commandement.
 24 Now when Mattathias sawe it, he was so inflamed with zeale, that his raiues shoke, and his wrath was kindled according to the ordinance of the Law: therefore he ran vnto him, and killed him by the altar.
 25 And at the same time he slewe ȳ Kings commissiõner, that compelled him to do sacrifice, and destroyed the altar.
 26 Thus bare he a zeale to ȳ Law of God, * doing, as Phinees did vnto Zambri the Num. 25.7. sonne of Salom.
 27 ¶ Then cryed Mattathias with a loude voyce in the citie, saying, Whosoeuer is zealous of the Law, and wil stand by the couenant, let him come forthe after me.
 28 So he, and his sonnes fled into the mountaines, & left all that thei had in the citie.
 29 Then manie that sought after iustice & iudgement, Or, they liued iustly and rightly.
 30 Went downe into ȳ wildernes to dwell there, bothe they, and their children, and their wiues, and their catrel: for the afflictions increased fore vpon them.
 31 ¶ Now whẽ it was tolde vnto the Kings seruants, and to the garisons, which were in Ierusalem in the citie of Dauid, that men had broken the Kings commandement, & were gone downe into the secret places in the wildernes,
 32 Then many pursued after them: and hauing ouertaken them, thei camped against them, and set the battel in array against them on the Sabbath day,
 33 And said vnto them, Let this now be sufficient: come forthe & do according to the commandement of the King, and ye shal liue.
 34 But they answered, We wil not go forthe, nether wil we do the Kings commandement, to defile the Sabbath day.
 35 Then they gaue them the battel.
 36 But the other answered them nothing, nether cast anie one stone at the, nor stopped the priuie places,
 37 But said, We wil dye all in our innocencie: the heauen and earth shal testifie for vs, that ye destroy vs wrongfully.
 38 Thus thei gaue them the battel vpon the Sabbath, and slewe bothe men and catrel, their wiues and their children to the number of a thousand people.
 39 ¶ When Mattathias & his friends vnderstode this, thei mourned for them greatly,
 40 And said one to another, If we all do as our brethren haue done, and fight not against the heathen for our liues, & for our Lawes, then shal thei incõtinently destroy vs out of the earth.
 41 Therefore they concluded at the same time, sayig, Whosoever shal come to make battel with vs. vpon the Sabbath daye, we wil fight against him, that we dye not all, as our brethren that were murdered in the secret places.

I. Maccabees.

42 Then came vnto them the assemblie of the Asideans, which were of the strongest men of Israel, all suche as were well minded toward the Law.

43 And all they that were fled for persecution, ioyned them selues vnto them, and were an helpe vnto them.

44 So they gathered a power, and smote the wicked men in their wrath, & the vngodlie in their angre: but the rest fled vnto the heathen, and escaped.

45 Then Mattathias and his friends went about, and destroyed the altars,

46 And circumcised the children by force that were vncircumcised, as manie as they founde within the coasts of Israel,

47 And they pursued after the proude me: and this acte prospered in their hands.

48 So they recouered the Law out of the hand of the Gentiles, & out of the hand of Kings, and gaue not place to y wicked.

49 Now when the time drewe nere, that Mattathias shulde dye, he said vnto his sonnes, Now is pride and persecution increased, and the time of destruction, and the wrath of indignacion.

50 Now therefore, my sonnes, be ye zealous of the Law, & giue your liues for the couenant of our fathers.

51 Call to remembrance what actes our fathers did in their time: so shal ye receiue great honour and an euerlasting name.

61 And thus ye may consider thorowe out all ages, that whosoever put their trust in him, shal not want strength.

62 Feare not ye then the wordes of a sinful ma: for his glorie is but dongue and wormes.

63 To day is he set vp, & to morowe he shal not be foude: for he is turned into his dust, and his purpose perisheth.

64 Wherefore, my sonnes, take good hearts, and shewe your selues man for the Law: for by it shal you obtaine glorie.

65 And beholde, I knowe that your brother Simon is a man of counsel: giue care vnto him alway: he shal be a father vnto you.

66 And Iudas Maccabeus hath bene mightie and strong, euen from his youth vp: let him be your captaine and fight you the battel for the people.

67 Thus shal ye bring vnto you all those that obserue the Law, & shal aduenge the iniuries of your people.

68 Recompense fully the heathen, and giue your selues to the commandement of the Law.

69 So he blessed them, and was laied with his fathers,

70 And dyed in the hundreth, fortie & six yere, and his sonnes buryed him in his fathers sepulchre at Modin, & all Israel made great lamentacion for him.

CHAP. III.

1 Iudas is made ruler ouer the Lewes. 11 He killeth Apollonius & Seron the princes of Syria. 44 The confidence of Iudas towards God. 55 Iudas determineth to fight against Lyfias, whome Antiochus had made captaine ouer his hoste.

1 Then Iudas his sonne, called Maccabeus, rose vp in his place.

2 And all his brethren helped him, and all they that helde with his father, and fought with courage the battel of Israel.

3 So he gave his people great honour: he put on a breastplate as a gyant, and armed himself, and set the battel in array, and defended the same with the sworde.

4 In his actes he was like a lyon, and as a lyons whelp roaring after the pray.

5 For he pursued the wicked, & fought them out, & burnt vp those that vexed his people,

6 So that the wicked fled for feare of him, and all the workers of iniquitie were put to trouble: and saluacion prospered in his hand.

7 And he grieved diuers Kings, but Iacob reioyced by his actes, and his memorial is blessed for euer.

8 He went also thorowe the cities of Iuda, and destroyed the wicked out of them, and turned away the wrath from Israel.

9 So was he renowned vnto the ends of the earth, and he assembled together those that were readie to perish.

10 ¶ But Apollonius gathered the Gentiles, and a great hoste out of Samaria, to fight against Israel.

2 Who was gouernour of Syria. Ioseph Antiq. 12. chap. 9.

11 Which

- 21 Which when Iudas perceiued, he went forth to mete him, and smote him, & slue him, so that many fel downe slaine, & the rest fled.
- 22 So Iudas toke their spoiles, and toke also Apollonius sworde, and fought with it all his life long.
- 23 ¶ Now whē Scron a prince of ſy armie of Syria, heard that Iudas had gathered vnto him the congregacion, and Church of the faithful, and went forth to the warre,
- 24 He ſaid, I wil get me a name, and wil be glorious in the realme: for I wil go fight with Iudas, & thē that are with him, which haue deſpised the Kings commandement.
- 25 So he made him readie to go vp, and there went with him a mightie hoſte of the vngodlie to helpe him, & to be aduenged of the children of Iſrael.
- 26 And when he came nere to the going vp of Bethhoron, Iudas went forth to mete him with a ſmale companie.
- 27 But when they ſawe the armie coming againſt them, they ſaid to Iudas, How are we able, being ſo fewe, to fight againſt ſo great a multitude, & ſo ſtrong, ſeing we be ſo wearie, and haue faſted all this day?
- 28 Then ſaid Iudas, It is an eaſie thing for many to be ſhut vp in the hands of fewe, and there is no difference before the God of heauen, to deliuer by a great multitude, or by a ſmale companie.
- 29 For the victorie of the battel ſtādeth not in the multitude of ſy hoſte, but the ſtrēgth cometh from heauen.
- 30 They come againſt vs with a cruel and proude multitude, to deſtroy vs, and our wiues, and our children, and to robbe vs.
- 31 But we do fight for our liues, and for our Lawes,
- 32 And God him ſelf wil deſtroy thē before our face: thereforē be not ye afraid of them.
- 33 And whē he had leſt of ſpeaking, he leſt ſuddenly vpon them: ſo was Scron and his hoſte deſtroyed before him.
- 34 And they purſued them from the going downe of Bethhorō vnto the plaine: where there were ſlaine eight hundreth men of them, and the reſidue fled into the land of the Philiftims.
- 35 Then the feare & terrour of Iudas & his brethré fel vpon the naciōs rounde about,
- 36 So that his fame came vnto the King: for all the Gentiles colde tell of the warres of Iudas.
- 37 ¶ But when King Antiochus heard theſe tidings, he was angrie in his minde: wherefore he ſent forth, & gathered all ſy power of his realme a very ſtrong armie,
- 38 And opened his treaſurie, and gaue his hoſte a yeres wages in hand, commanding thē to be readie for a yere for all occaſiōs.
- 39 Neuertheles, when he ſawe that the money of his treaſures failed, & that the tributes in the countrey were ſmale, becauſe of the diſſencion, & plagues ſy he had broght vpon the land, in taking away the lawes which had bene of olde time,
- 40 He feared leſt he ſhulde not haue now at the ſeconde time, as at the firſt, for the charges & giſtes that he had giuē with a liberal hand afore: for in liberalitie he farre paſſed the other Kings ſy were before him.
- 41 Wherefore he was heauie in his minde, and thought to go into Perſia, for to take tributes of the countreis, and to gather muche money.
- 42 So he leſt Lyſias a noble man and of the Kings blood to ouerſe the Kings buſines, from the riuer of Euphrates vnto the borders of Egypt,
- 43 And to bring vp his ſonne Antiochus, til he came againe.
- 44 Moreouer, he gaue him halfe of his hoſte and elephantes, & gaue him the charge of all things that he wolde haue done,
- 45 And concerning thoſe which dwelt in Iuda and Ieruſalem, that he ſhulde ſend an armie againſt them, to deſtroy and roote out the power of Iſrael & the remnant of Ieruſalem, and to put out their memorial from that place,
- 46 And to ſet ſtrangers for to inhabite all their quarters, & parte their lād amōg thē.
- 47 And the King toke the halfe of the hoſte that remained, & departed from Antiochia his royal citie, in the yere an hūdreth fortie and ſeuē, and paſſed the riuer Euphrates, & went thorow the hie countreis.
- 48 Then Lyſias choſe Ptolemeus the ſonne of Doriminius, & Nicanor, and Gorgias, mightie men, and the Kings friends,
- 49 And ſent with them fortie thouſand ſore men, & ſeuē thouſand horſemen, to go into the land of Iuda, & to deſtroye it, as the King commanded.
- 50 So they wēt forth with all their power and came and pitched by jEmmaus in the plaine countrey. ¶ Emmaus.
- 51 Now when the marchants of the countrey heard the rumour of them, they toke very muche ſiluer & golde, & ſeruants, & came into the campe to bye the childrē of Iſrael for ſclaues, & the ſtrength of Syria & of ſtrange naciōs ioyned with them.
- 52 ¶ Now when Iudas & his brethren ſawe that trouble increaſed, and that the hoſte drewe nere vnto their borders, cōſidering the Kings wordes, whereby he had commanded to deſtroy the people, and vtterly abolith them,
- 53 They ſaid one to another, Let vs redreſſe the decay of our people, and let vs fight for our people, and for our Sanctuarie.
- 54 Then the cōgregaciō were ſone readie gathered to fight, and to praye, and to desire mercie and compafsion.

I. Maccabees.

45 As for Ierufalem, it was not inhabited, but was as a wildernes. There went none that was borne in it, in or out at it, and the Sanctuarie was troden downe, and the strangers kept the forteresse, and it was the habitacion of the heathen: & the mirth of Iacob was taken away: the pipe and the harpe ceased.

46 So they gathered them selues together, and came to Maspha before Ierufalem: for in Maspha was the place where they praied afore time in Israel.

47 And they fasted that day, and put sackcloth vpon them, and cast ashes vpon their heads, and rent their clothes,

48 And opened the booke of the Law, wherein the heathen sought to paint the likenes of their idoles,

49 And brought the Priests garments, and the first frutes, and the tithes, and set there the Nazarites, which accomplished their daies.

50 And they cryed with a loude voyce, towards heauen, saying, What shal we do with the se? and whether shal we carye them away?

51 For thy Sanctuarie is troden downe and defiled, and thy Priests are in heauines, & brought downe.

52 And beholde, the heathen are come against vs to destroie vs: thou knowest what things they imagine against vs.

53 How can we stand before them, except thou helpe vs?

54 Then they blew the trumpets, & cryed with a loude voyce.

55 And after this Iudas ordeined captaines ouer the people, euen captaines ouer thousands, and captaines ouer hundreths, and captaines ouer fifties, and captaines ouer ten.

56 And they comanded them that buylded houses, or married wiues, or planted vineyardes, or were fearful, that they shulde returne euerie one to his owne house, according* to the Law.

57 So the hoste remoued, and pitched vpon the Southside of Emmaus.

58 And Iudas said, Arme your selues, and be valiant men, & be readie against the morning to fight with these nations, which are gathered together against vs, to destroie vs and our Sanctuarie.

59 For it is better for vs to dye in battel, then to see the calamities of our people & of our Sanctuarie.

60 Neuertheles as the wil of God is in heauen, so be it.

CHAP. IIII.

Iudas goeth against Gorgias which lieth in wait. 14 He putteth Gorgias and his hoste to flight 21 Lyfias immedeth Iudas, 29 But Iudas drueeth him out. 43 Iudas purifich the Temple and dedicateth the altar.

1 Then toke Gorgias five thousand ^{Joseph lib. 12. chap. 16} men, and a thousand of the best horsemen, and departed out of the campe by night,

2 To inuade the campe of the Iewes, and to slaye them suddenly: and the men of the forteresse were his guides.

3 Now when Iudas heard it, he remoued, & they that were valiant men to smite the Kings armie which was at Emmaus,

4 Whiles yet the armie was dispersed from the campe.

5 In the meane season came Gorgias by night into Iudas campe: & when he founde no man there, he fought them in the mountaines: for said he, They flee from vs.

6 But as sone as it was day, Iudas shewed him self in the field with three thousand men, which had nether harnes nor swordes to their mindes.

7 And they sawe that the armies of the heathen were strong and well armed, and their horsemen about them, and that these were experie men of warre.

8 Then said Iudas to the men that were with him, Feare ye not their multitude, nether be afraid of their assault.

9 Remember, how our fathers were deliuered* in the red Sea, when Pharao pursued them with an armie. ^{Exod. 14. 9.}

10 Therefore now let vs crye vnto heauen, and the Lord wil haue mercie vpon vs, & remember the couenant of our fathers, & wil destroie this hoste before our face this day:

11 So shal all the heathen knowe, that there is one, which deliuereth and saueth Israel.

12 Then the strangers lift vp their eyes, & sawe them coming against them,

13 And they went out of their tentes into the battel, and they that were with Iudas, blew the trumpets.

14 So they ioyned together, and the heathen were discomfited and fled by the plaine.

15 But the hinmoste of them fel by the sword, and they pursued them vnto "Gazeró, ^{107. Affirmati} and into the plaines of Idumea, and of Azotus, and of Iamnia, so that there were slaine of them about three thousand men.

16 So Iudas turned againe with his hoste from pursuing them,

17 And said vnto the people, Be not griedie of the spoiles: for there is a battel before vs.

18 And Gorgias and the armie is here by vs in the mountaine: but stand ye now fast against your enemies, and ouercome them: then may ye safely take the spoiles.

19 As Iudas was speaking these wordes, there appeared one parte which looked from the the mountaines.

20 But when Gorgias sawe that his were fled, and that Iudas soldiers burnt the tentes: (for the smoke that was sene, declared what was done.)

21 When they sawe these things, they were sore afraied, and when they sawe also that Iudas and his hoste were in the field readie to set them selues in array,

22 They fled euerie one into the land of strangers.

23 So Iudas turned againe to spoile the tentes, where he gate muche golde and siluer, and precious stones, and purple of the sea, and great riches.

24 Thus they went home, and sang psalmes, and praised towarde the heauen: for he is gracious, and his mercie endureth for euer.

25 And so Israel had a great victorie in that day.

26 ¶ Now all the strangers that escaped, came, & tolde Lysias all the things that were done.

27 Who when he heard these things, was sore afraied, and discouraged, because suche things came not vpon Israel as he wolde, nether suche things as the King had commanded him, came to passe.

28 Therefore the next yere following, gathered Lysias thre score thousande chosen fore men, and fiue thousande horsemen to fight against Ierusalem.

29 So they came into Idumea, and pitched their tentes at Beth-sura, where Iudas came against them with ten thousand men.

1 Sam. 17, 50.

1 Sam. 14, 13.

30 And whē he sawe that mightie armie, he praied and said, Blessed be thou, o Sauour of Israel, which didest destroe the assalte of y^e mightie man by the hād of thy seruāt Dauid, & gauest the hoste of the strāgers into the hād of Jonathan, y^e sonne of Saul, and of his armour bearer:

31 Shut vp this armie in y^e hand of thy people of Israel, & let thē be confounded with their power, and with their horsemen.

32 Make them afraied, and consume their boldenes & strength, that thei may be astonished at their destruction.

33 Cast them downe by the sworde of them that loue thee: thē shal all thei that knowe thy Name, praise thee with songs.

34 So they ioyned together, and there were slaine of Lysias hoste, fiue thousand men, and they fell before them.

35 Thē Lysias, seing his armie put to flight and the manlines of Iudas soldiers, and that they were readie, either to liue or dye valiantly, he went into Antiochia, and gathered strangers, and when he had furnished his armie, he thought againe (being prepared) to come against Iudea.

36 Then said Iudas & his brethré, Beholde, our enemies are discomfited: let vs now go vp to cleanse, and to reparaire the Sanctuarie.

37 So all the hoste gathered them together, and went vp into the mountaine of Sion.

38 Now whē they sawe the Sanctuarie layed waste, and the altar defiled, and the dores burnt vp, and the shrubbes growing in the courtes, as in a forrest, or as on one of the mountaines, and that the Priests chambers were broken downe,

39 They rent their clothes, and made great lamentation, and cast ashes vpon their heads,

40 And fel downe to the grounde on their faces, and blewe an alarme with the trumpets, and cryed towarde heauen.

41 Then Iudas commanded certeine of the men to fight against those which were in y^e castel, til he had cleansed the Sanctuarie.

42 So he chose Priests that were vndefiled, suche as delited in the Law,

43 And they cleansed the Sanctuarie, and bare out the defiled stones into an vnclene place,

44 And consulted what to do with the altar of burnt offrings, which was polluted.

45 So they thocht it was best to destroe it, lest it shulde be a reproche vnto them, because the heathen had defiled it: therefore they destroyed the altar,

46 And layed vp the stones vpon the mountaine of the Temple in a conuenient place, til there shulde come a Prophet, to shewe what shulde be done with them.

47 So they toke whole stones according to the Law, and buylded a new altar according to the former,

48 And made vp the Sanctuarie, and the things that were within the Temple, and the courts, and all things.

49 They made also new holie vessels, and broght into the Temple the candelsticke, and the altar of burnt offrings, and of incense and the table.

50 And they burnt incense vpō the altar, & lighted the lampes which were vpon the candelsticke, that they might burne in the Temple.

51 Thei set also the shewbread vpon the table, and hanged vp the vailles, and finished all the workes that they had begon to make.

52 And vpon the fiue and twentieth day of the ninth moneth, which is called the moneth of Chaslu, in the hundreth and eight and fortieth yere they rose vp betimes in the morning,

53 And offred sacrifice according to the Law, vpō the new altar of burnt offrings, that they had made.

54 According to the time, and according to the day, that the heathen had defiled it, in

I. Maccabees.

- the same day was it made new with songs, and harpes, and lutes, and cymbales.
- 55 And all the people fel vpon their faces, worshipping & praising towards the heauen him that had giuen the good successe.
- 56 So they kept the dedicacion of the altar eight daies, offering burnt offerings with gladnes, & offered sacrifices of deliuerance and praise,
- 57 And decete the forefronte of the Temple with crownes of golde and shields, & dedicated the gates and chambers, & hanged dore vpon them.
- 58 Thus there was very great gladnes among the people, and the reproche of the heathen was put away.
- 59 So Iudas and his brethren with the whole cōgregation of Israel ordeined that the daies of dedicacion of the altar shulde be kept in their season from yere to yere, by the space of eight daies, from the fise and twentie day of the moneth Challeu, with mirth and gladnes.
- 60 And at the same time buylded they vpon mount Sion with hie walles and strong towers rounde about, lest the Gentiles shulde come, and treade it downe, as they had done afore.
- 61 Therefore they set a garison there to kepe it, & fortified Beth-sura to kepe it, that the people might haue a defense against Idumea.
- CHAP. V.
- 3 Iudas vanquished the heathen that go about to destroye Israel, & is holpen of his brethren Simon and Ionathan so he ouerthroweth the citie of Ephron, because they denyed him passage therswe it.*
- 1 NOW when the nations rounde about heard, that the altar was buylded, & the Sanctuarie renued, as afore, they were foregriued.
- 2 Therefore they thought to destroye the generation of Iacob that was among them, and begane to slaye and destroye the people.
- 3 Then Iudas fought against the children of Esau in Idumea at Artabathene, because they besieged the Israelites, and he smote them with a great plague, and droue them to straites, and toke their spoiles.
- 4 He thought also vpon the malice of the children of Ben, which had bene a snare and an hinderance vnto the people, when they laye in waite for them in the hie way.
- 5 Wherefore he shut them vp in towers, and besieged them, and destroyed them vnterly, and burnt their towers with fyre, with all that were in them.
- 6 Afterward, went he against the children of Ammon, where he founde a mightie power, and a great multitude with Timotheus their captaine.
- 7 So he had manie battels with them, but they were destroyed before him, and so he discomfited them,
- 8 And toke Gazer with the townes thereof, and so turned againe into Iudea.
- 9 ¶ Then the heathen that were in Galaad, gathered them together against the Israelites that were in their quarters, to slay them: but they fled to the castel of Dathe-man,
- 10 And sent letters to Iudas, and to his brethren, saying, The heathen that are about vs, are gathered against vs, to destroye vs,
- 11 And they make them readie for to come, and to take the forteresse, wherunto we are fled, and Timotheus is captaine of their hoste.
- 12 Come now therefore, and deliuer vs out of their hands: for manie of vs are slaine:
- 13 And all our brethre that were at Tubin, are slaine, and they haue taken away their wiues, and their children, and their goods, and destroyed there almoste a thousand men.
- 14 While these letters were yet a reading, beholde, there came other messengers from Galile with their clothes red, which tolde the same tidinges,
- 15 And said, that they of Ptolemais, and of Tyrus, and of Sidon, and of all Galile of the Gentiles were gathered against them to destroye them.
- 16 When Iudas, and the people heard these wordes, a great Congregation came together, to cōsulte what they might do for their brethre, that were in trouble, & whome they besieged.
- 17 Then said Iudas to Simon his brother, Chuse thee out men, and go & deliuer thy brethren in Galile, and I and my brother Ionathan, wil go into the countrey of Galaad.
- 18 ¶ So he left Iosephus the sonne of Zacharias, and Azarias to be captaines of the people, and to kepe the remnant of the hoste in Iudea,
- 19 And commanded them, saying, Take the ouersight of this people, and make no warre against the heathen, vntil we come againe.
- 20 And vnto Simon were giuen thre thousand men to go into Galile, and to Iudas eight thousand men for the countrey of Galaad.
- 21 Then went Simon into Galile, and gaue diuers battels to the heathen, and the heathen were discomfited by him.
- 22 And he pursued them vnto the gates of Ptolemais: & there were slaine of the heathen almoste thre thousand men: so he toke their spoiles.
- 23 Thus they rescued them that were in Galile

- like and in Arbattis with their wiues, and their children, and all that they had, and broght them into Iudea with great ioye.
- 24 ¶ Iudas Maccabeus also, and his brother Jonathan went ouer Iorden, and trauiled thre dayes journey in the wildernes;
- 25 Where they met with the Nabathites, who receiued them louingly, & tolde the euerie thing that was done vnto their brethren in the country of Galaad,
- 26 And how that manie of them were besieged in Bosorra, & Bofor, in Alems, Chafbon, Maged and Carnaim (all these cities are strong, and great)
- 27 And that they were kept in other cities of Galaad, and to morrow they are appoynted to bring their hoste vnto these fortes, and to take them, and to destroye them all in one day.
- 28 So Iuda: & his hoste turned in all haste by the way of the wildernes toward Bosorra, and wan the citie, and slewe all the males with the edge of the sworde, and toke all their spoile, and set fyre vpon the citie.
- 29 And in the night he remoued from thence, and went toward the forteresse.
- 30 And betimes in the morning when they loke vp, beholde, there was an innumerable people bearing ladders, and instruments of warre, to take the forte, and had assailed them.
- 31 When Iudas sawe that the battell was begon, and that the crye of the citie went vp to heauen with trumpets, and a great founde,
- 32 Then he said vnto the armie, Fight this day for your brethren.
- 33 So he wēt forth behinde them with thre companies, and they blew the trumpets, & cryed with prayer.
- 34 Then the holte of Timotheus knewe, that it was Maccabeus, and they fled from him, & he smote them with a great slaughter, so that there was killed of them the same day, almoste eight thousand men.
- 35 ¶ Then departed Iudas vnto Maspha, & laid siege vnto it, and wanne it, and slewe all the males thereof, and spoiled it, and set fyre vpon it.
- 36 From thence went he and toke Chafbó, Maged, and Bofor, and the other cities in Galaad.
- 37 After these things gathered Timotheus another hoste, and he camped before Raphon beyonde the flood.
- 38 Now Iudas had sent to espie the hoste, & they broght him worde againe, saying, All the heathen that be rounde about vs, are gathered vnto him, and the hoste is verie great,
- 39 And he hath hyred the Arabians to helpe them, and they haue pitched their tentes beyonde the flood, & are ready to come
- and fight against thee. So Iudas went to mete them.
- 40 Then Timotheus said vnto the captaynes of his hoste, When Iudas and his hoste come nere the flood, if he passe ouer first vnto vs, we shal not be able to withstand him: for he wil be to strong for vs.
- 41 But if he be afraid, and campe beyonde the flood, we wil go ouer vnto him, and shal preuaile against him.
- 42 Now whē Iudas came nere to the flood, he caused the gouernours of the people to remaine by the flood, and commaded the, saying, Suffer none to pitche a tent, but let euerie man come to the battell.
- 43 So he went first ouer towarde them, and all people after him: and all the heathen were discomfited before him, & cast away their weapons, and fled into the temple that was at Carnaim.
- 44 Which citie Iuda: wanne, and burnt the temple with all that were in it: so was Carnaim subdued, and might not withstand Iudas.
- 45 ¶ Then Iudas gathered all the Israelites that were in the country of Galaad, from the least vnto the most, with their wiues and their children, and their baggage, a verie great hoste, to come into the land of Iuda.
- 46 So they came vnto Ephron, which was a great citie by the way, and strongly defended: they colde not passe, nether at the right hand nor at the left, but must go thorowe it.
- 47 But they that were in the citie, shut the selues in, and stopped vp the gates with stones: and Iudas sent vnto them with peaceable wordes, saying,
- 48 Let vs passe thorowe your land, that we may go into our owne country, and none shal hurt you: we wil but onely go thorowe on foot: but they wolde not open vnto him.
- 49 Wherefore Iudas commanded a proclamation to be made thorowe out the hoste, that euerie man shulde assaile it according to his standing.
- 50 So the valiant men set vpon it, and assailed the citie all that day, and all that night, and the citie was giuen ouer into his hands:
- 51 Who slewe all the males with the edge of the sworde, and destroyed it, and toke the spoile thereof, and went thorowe the citie ouer them that were slaine.
- 52 Then went they ouer Iorden into the great plaine before Bethsan.
- 53 And Iudas gathered together those that were behinde, and gaue the people good exhortation all the way thorowe, til they were come into the land of Iuda.
- 54 Thus they went vp with ioye, and glad-nes vnto mount Sion, where they offered burnt offerings, because there were none of them slaine, but came home againe in safetie.

35 ¶ Now whiles Iudas and Ionathan were in the land of Galaad, and Simon their brother in Galile before Ptolemas,

36 Ioseph the sonne of Zacharias, and Azarias the captaines, hearing of the valiant actes, and battels which they had achieved, said,

37 Let vs get vs a name also, and go fight against the heathen that are round about vs.

38 So they gaue their hoste a commandement and went towarde Iamnia.

39 But Gorgias and his men came out of the citie to fight against them.

40 And Ioseph and Azarias were put to flight and pursued vnto the borders of Iudca: and there were slaine that day of the people of Israel about two thousand men: so y there was a great ouerthrowe among the people of Israel,

41 Because they were not obedient vnto Iudas, and his brethre, but thought to do some valiant thing.

42 Also they came not of the stocke of these men, by whose hands deliuerace was giuen to Israel.

43 But the man Iudas, and his brethren were greatly commended in the sight of all Israel, and of all the heathen, wherefoeuer their name was heard of.

44 And the people came vnto them, bidding them welcome.

Ioseph Anti. 12. chap. 11 & 12.

45 Afterwarde went Iudas forthe with his brethren, and fought against the children of Esau in the lad toward the South, where he wanne Hebron, and the townes thereof, & he destroyed the castel thereof, & burnt the towres thereof round about.

40. Philistines.

46 Then remoued he to go into the land of the strangers, and went thorow Samaria.

47 At the same time were the Priests of the cities slaine in y batrel, which wolde shewe their valiantnes, and went forthe to batrel without counsel: and when Iudas came to Azorus in the strangers lad, he brake downe their altars, and burnt with fyre the images of their gods, and toke away the spoiles of the cities, and came againe into the land of Iuda.

CHAP. VI.

1 Antiochus, willing to take the citie of Elima's, is driuen away of the citizens. 2 He falleth into sickness, and dyeth. 17 His sonne Antiochus is made King. 34 The manner to prouoke elephants to fight. 43 Cleanas valiant acte. 49 The siege of Sion.

Ioseph Anti. 12. chap. 13.

Now when King Antiochus trauailed thorow the high countreis, he heard that Elima's in the countrey of Persia was a citie greatly renoumed for riches, siluer and golde,

2 And that there was in it a verie riche temple, where as were couerings of golde, cote armoures, and harnes, which Alexandre King of Macedonia the sonne of Philippe (y reigned first in Grecia) had left there.

3 Wherefore he went about to take the citie, and to spoile it, but he was not able: for y citizens were warned of the matter,

4 And rose vp against him in batrel, & he fled and departed thence with great heauines, and came againe into Babylon.

5 Moreover, there came one which brought him tidings in the countrey of Persia, that the armies that went against the land of Iuda, were driuen away,

6 And that Lyfias, which went forthe first with a great power, was driuen away of the Iewes, and that they were made strong by the armour, and power, and diuers spoyles which they had gotten of the armies whome they had destroyed,

7 And that they had pulled downe the abominacion, which he had set vp vpon the altar at Ierusalem, and fenced the Sanctuarie with high walles, as it was afore, and Beth-sura his citie.

8 So when the King had heard these wordes, he was astonished, and sore moued: therefore he laid him downe vpon his bed, & fel sicke for verie sorowe, because it was not come to passe, as he had thought.

9 And there continued he manie dayes: for his grief was euer more & more, so that he sawe he must nedes dye.

10 Therefore he sent for all his friends, & said vnto them, The slepe is gone from mine eyes, and mine heart faileth for verie care.

11 And I thinke with my self, Into what aduersitie am I come? & into what floods of miserie am I fallen now, where as afore time I was in prosperitie, and greatly set by, by reason of my power?

12 And now do I remember the euils that I haue done at Ierusalem: for I toke all the vessels of golde & of siluer that were in it, and sent to destroye the inhabitants of Iuda without cause.

13 I knowe that these troubles are come vpon me for the same cause, and beholde, I must dye with great sorowe in a strange land.

14 Then called he for Philippe, one of his friends, whome he made ruler of all his realme,

15 And gaue him the crowne, and his robe, and the ring, that he shulde instruct his sonne Antiochus, and bring him vp, til he might reigne him self.

16 So King Antiochus dyed there in the hundreth, and fortie and ninth yere.

17 ¶ When Lyfias knewe, that the King was

- was dead, he ordeined Antiochus his sonne (whome he had broght vp) to reigne in his fathets stead, and cailed him Eupator.
- 18 Now they that were in the castlle at Ierusalem, kept in the Israelites rounde about the Sanctuarie, and foght alwaies their hurt, and the strengthening of y^e heathen.
- 19 Therefore Iudas thoght to destroy thē, & called all the people together to besiege them.
- 20 So they came together, and besieged thē in the hundreth and fiftie yere, and made instruments to shoote and other engins of warre.
- 21 But certeine of them that were besieged, gate forthe, (vnto whome some vngodlic men of Israel ioyned them selues.)
- 22 And they went vnto the King, saying, How long wilt thou cease from executing iudgement, and aduenge our brethren?
- 23 We haue bene readie to serue thy father, & to go forwarde in those things, that he appointed, & to obey his commandemēt.
- 24 Therefore they of our nacions fel from vs for this cause, and wheresoever they founde anie of vs, they slewe them, and spoyled our inheritance.
- 25 And thei haue not onely laied hand vpon vs, but vpon all about their borders.
- 26 And beholde, this day are they besieging the castlle at Ierusalem to take it, and haue fortified the Sanctuarie, and Beth-sura.
- 27 And if thou doest not prevent thē quickly, thei wil do greater things then these, and thou shalt not be able to ouercome them.
- 28 When the King heard this, he was verie angrie, and called all his friends, the captaines of his armie, and his horsemen,
- 29 And bandes that were hired, came vnto him fro^t the Kings, that were confederate, and from the yles of the sea.
- 30 So the number of his armie was an hundreth thousand fote men, & twentie thousand horsemen, and two and thirtie elephants exercised in battel.
- 31 These came through Idumea and drewe nere to Beth-sura, and besieged it a long season, and made engins of warre: but thei came out, and burnt them with fyre, and foght valiantly.
- 32 Then departed Iudas from the castlle, & remoued the hoste towarde Beth-zacarias ouer against the Kings campe.
- 33 So the King arose verie earely, & broght the armie and his power towarde the way of Beth-zacarias, where the armies set thē selues in array to the battel, and blew the trumpets.
- 34 And to prouoke the elephants for to fight, thei shewed thē the blood of grapes and mulberies,
- 35 And they set the beafts according to the ranges: so that by euerie elephant there stode a thousand men armed with coates of maile and helmets of brasle vpō their heads, and vnto euerie beaft were ordeined siue hundreth horsemen of the best,
- 36 Which were readie at all times wheresoever the beaft was: and whether soeuer the beaft went, they went also, and departed not from him.
- 37 And vpon them were strong towres of wood that couered euerie beaft, which were fastened thereon with instruments, & vpon euerie one was two and thirtie men, that foght in them, and the Indian that ruled him.
- 38 They set also the remnant of the horsmen vpon bothe the sides in two wings of the hoste to stirre them vp, and to kepe them in the valleis.
- 39 And when the sunne shone vpon the golden shields, the mountaines glistered therewith, and gaue light as lāpes of fyre.
- 40 Thus parte of the Kings armie was spred vpon the hie mountaines, and parte beneth: so they marched forwarde warly and in order.
- 41 And all they that heard the noyce of their multitude, and the marching of the companie, and the ratteling of the harnes, were astonished: for the armie was verie great and mightie.
- 42 Then Iudas and his hoste entred into the battel, & thei slewe six hundreth men of the Kings armie.
- 43 ¶ Now when Eleazar, the sonne of Abaron, sawe one of the elephants armed with royal harnes, and was more excellent then all y^e other beafts, he thoght that the King shulde be vpon him.
- 44 Wherfore he icoparded him self to deliuer his people, and to get him a perpetual name,
- 45 And ranne boldely vnto him through the middes of the hoste, slaying on the right hand, and on the left, so that thei departed away on bothe sides.
- 46 So went he to the elephants fete, and gate him vnder him, and slewe him: then fel the elephant downe vpon him, & there he dyed.
- 47 But the other, seing the power of y^e King and the fiercenes of his armie, departed from them.
- 48 ¶ And the Kings armie went vp to mete them towarde Ierusalem, and the King pitched his tents in Iudea towarde mount Sion.
- 49 Moreouer, the King toke truce with thē that were in Beth-sura: but when they came out of the citie, because they had no vitailles there, and were shut vp therein, & the land had relted,
- 50 The King toke Beth-sura, and set there

- a garison to kepe it,
- 51 And besieged the Sanctuarie many dayes, & made instruments to shoote, & other engins of warre, and instruments to cast fyre and stones, and pieces to cast dartes and flings.
- ^{10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100} 52 Thei also made engins against their engins, and fought a long season.
- 53 But in the garners there were no vitailles: for it was the seuenth yere, and then they that were in Iudea, & were deliuered from the Gentiles, had eaten vp the residue of the store,
- 54 So that in the Sanctuarie were fewe men left: for the famine came so vpon the, that they were scattered euerie mā to his owne place.
- 55 ¶ Now when Lyfias heard that Philippe (whome Antiochus the King, while he liued, had ordeined to bring vp Antiochus his sonne, that he might be King)
- 56 Was come againe out of Persia, & Media, and the Kings hoste with him, and thought to take vnto him the rule of thīgs,
- 57 He and his halted, and were stirred forward by them in the castel to go and tell the King, and the captaines of the hoste, and to others, saying, We decrease dayly, & our vitailles are but smale: and the place that we laye siege vnto, is strong, and the affaires of the realme depende vpon vs.

- 60 So the King and the princes were content, and sent vnto them to make peace, & they receiued it.
- 61 When the King & the princes had made an othe vnto them, they came vpō this out of the forteresse.
- 62 And the King went vp to mount Sion: but when he sawe that the place was well defended, he brake his othe that he had made, and commanded to breake downe the wall rounde about.

- 2 And when he came into the possession of his fathers kīgdome, his soldiers toke Antiochus and Lyfias, and broght them vnto him.
- 3 But when it was tolde him, he said, Shewe me not their faces.
- 4 So thei put the to death. Now when Demetrius was set vpon the throne of his kīgdome,
- 5 There came vnto him all the wicked and vngodlie men of Israel, whose captaine was Alcimus, that wolde haue bene the hie Priest.
- 6 These men accused the people vnto the King, saying, Iudas and his brethren haue slayne all thy friends, and driuen vs out of our owne land.
- 7 Wherefore send now some man, whome thou trustest, that he maye go and se all the destruction, which he hath done vnto vs, and to the Kings land, and let him punish them with all their partakers.
- 8 Then the King chose Bacchides a friend of his, which was a great man in the realme, and ruled beyonde the flood, and was faithful vnto the King, and sent him,
- 9 And that wicked Alcimus, whome he made hie Priest, and commanded him to be aduenged of the children of Israel.
- 10 So they departed, and came with a great hoste into the land of Iuda, and sent messengers to Iudas and his brethren, deceitfully with peaceable wordes.
- 11 But they beleued not their saying: for thei sawe that they were come with a great hoste.
- 12 Then a companie of the gouernours assembled vnto Alcimus and Bacchides to intreat of reasonable points.
- 13 And the Asideans were the first that required peace among the children of Israel.
- 14 For said they, He that is a Priest of the sede of Aarō, is come with this armie: therefore he wil not hurt vs.
- 15 Then he spake vnto them peaceably, and swore vnto them, and said, We wil do you no harme, nether your friends:
- 16 And they beleued him: but he toke of the thre score men, and slewe them in one day according to the wordes that were written.
- 17 ¶ Thei haue cast y bodies of thy Saintes, ^{Tsa. 78. 2.} and their blood rounde about Ierusalem, and there was no man that wolde burye them.
- 18 So there came a feare and trembling among all the people: for they said, There is nether trueth nor righteousnes in them: for they haue broken the appointment & othe that they made.
- 19 The Bacchides remoued frō Ierusalem, and & pitched his tente at Beth-zecha, where he sent forthe & toke manie of the me that had forsaken him, & certeine of the people whome he slewe & cast into the great pit.

20 Then committed he the countrey vnto Alcimus, & left men of warre with him to helpe him: so Bacchides wet vnto y King.

21 Thus Alcimus stroue for y priesthode.

22 And all suche as troubled the people resorted vnto him: in somuche, that they obtained the land of Iuda, and did muche hurt in Israel.

23 Now when Iudas sawe all the mischief, that Alcimus and his companie had done amog the Israelites more then the hearthé, 24 He went forthe rounde about all the borders of Iudea, and punished those, that were fallen away, so that they came no more abroade in the countrey.

25 But when Alcimus sawe that Iudas & his people had gotten the vpper had, & knewe that he was not able to abide them, he went againe to the King, and accused the of wicked things.

26 Then the King sent Nicanor one of his chief princes, which hated Israel deadly, & commanded him, that he shulde destroye the people.

27 ¶ So Nicanor came to Ierusalem with a great hoste, and sent vnto Iudas, and his brethren deceitfully with friendlie wordes, saying,

28 Let there be no warre betwene me, and you: I wil come with fewe men, to se how ye do, friendly.

29 So he came vnto Iudas, and they saluted one another peaceably: but the enemies were prepared to take away Iudas.

30 Neuertheles, it was tolde Iudas, that he came vnto him vnder disceit: therefore he feared him, and wolde not se his face no more.

31 When Nicanor perceiued that his counsel was betrayed, he went out to fight against Iudas, beside Carphasalama.

32 Where there were slaine of Nicanors hoste about fife thousand men: so they fled vnto the citie of Dauid.

33 After this came Nicanor vp vnto mount Sion, and some of the Priests with the Elders of the people went forthe of the Sanctuarie to salute him peaceably, & to shew him the burnt offering that was offered for the King.

34 But he laughed at them, and mocked the and counted them prophane, and spake proudly,

35 And swore in his wrath, saying, If Iudas and his hoste be not deliuered now into mine hands, if euer I come againe in safetie, I wil burne vp this house. With that, went he out in a great anger.

36 Then the Priests came in, and stode before the altar in the Temple, weping, and saying,

37 For so muche as thou, O Lord, hast chosen this House, that thy Name might be called vpon therein, and that it shulde be an house of prayer, and petition for thy people,

38 Be aduenged of this man and his hoste, and let them be slaine by the sworde: remember their blasphemies, & suffre them not to continue.

39 ¶ When Nicanor was gone from Ierusalem, he pitched his tent at Beth-horon, & there an hoste met him out of Syria.

40 And Iudas pitched in Adasa with three thousand me where Iudas prayed, saying, 41 O Lord, because the messengers of King Senacherib blasphemed thee, thine Angel went forthe, and slewe an hundreth, foure score, and fife thousand of them.

42 So destroye thou this hoste before vs to day, that all other may knowe that he hath spokē wickedly against thy Sanctuarie, & punish him according to his malice.

43 So the armies ioyned together in battel, the thirteenth day of the moneth Adar: but Nicanors hoste was discomfited, and he him self was first slaine in the battel.

44 Now when his armie sawe that Nicanor was slaine, they cast away their weapons and fled.

45 But they pursued after the a dayes iourney from Adasa vnto Gasera, blowing an alarme with the trumpets after them.

46 So they came forthe of all the townes of Iudea rounde about, and ruffled vpon them, and throwe them from one to another, so that they all fel by the sworde, & there was not one of them lefte.

47 Then they toke the spoyle, and the pray and smote of Nicanors head, and his right hand, which he helde vp so proudly, and broght it with them, and hanged them vp afore Ierusalem.

48 So the people reioyced greatly, and kept that day as a day of great gladnes.

49 And they ordeined, to kepe ycerly that day on the thirteenth day of the moneth Adar.

50 Thus the land of Iuda was in rest a litle while.

Or, the right hand.

Or, Iuda.

- IN the meane season when Demetrius had heard how Nicanor, and his hoste had giuen the battel, he sent Bacchides, and Alcimus againe into Iudea, and his chief strength with them.
- 2 So they went forthe by the way that is towarde Galgala, and pitched their tentes before Mesaloth which is in Arbelis, and wanne it and slewe muche people.
- 3 And in the first moneth of the hundreth, fiftie and two yere, they layed their siege against Ierusalem.
- 4 But they raised their campe, and came to Berea, with twentie thousand foote men & two thousand horsemen.
- 5 Now Iudas had pitched his tent at Eleasa, & thre thousand chofen men with him.
- 6 And when they sawe, that the multitude of the armie was great, they were fore afraide, and manie conueied them selues out of the hoste, so that there abode no mo of them, but eight hundreth men.
- 7 When Iudas sawe that his hoste failed him, and that he must nedes fight, he was fore troubled in minde that he had no time to gather them together, and was discouraged.
- Neuertheles, he said vnto them that remained, Let vs rise, and go vp against our enemies, if peraduenture we may be able to fight with them.
- 8 But they wolde haue staied him, saying, We are not able: but let vs rather saue our liues: turne backe now, seing our brethren are departed: for shal we fight against the, that are so fewe?
- 9 Then Iudas said, God forbid, that we shulde do this thing, to fle from them: if our time be come, let vs dye manfully for our brethren, and let vs not staine our honour.
- 10 Then the hoste remoued out of the tentes, and stode against them, who had deuidded their horsemen into two troupes, and they that threwe with slings, and the archers marched in the forwarde, and they that fought in the forwarde, were all valiant men.
- 11 And Bacchides was in the right wing, So the armie drew nere on bothe sides, & blew the trumpets.
- 12 They of Iudas side blew the trumpets also, & the earth shoke at the noyce of the armies, and the battel continued from morning to night.

- 13 And when Iudas sawe that Bacchides and the strength of his armie was on the right side, he toke with him all the hardie men,
- 14 And brake the right wing, and followed vp on them vnto mount Azotus.
- 15 Now when they which were of the left wing, sawe that the right wing was discomfited, they followed Iudas behinde, and the that were with him hard at the heles.
- 16 Then was there a fore battel: for many were slaine of bothe the parties.
- 17 Iudas also him self was killed, and the remnant fled.
- 18 So Jonathan and Simon toke Iudas their brother, and buried him in his fathers sepulchre in the citie of Modin.
- 19 And all the Israelites wept for him, and mourned greatly for him, and lameted many daies, saying,
- 20 How is the valiant man fallen which deliuered Israel!
- 21 Concerning the other things of Iudas, bothe the battels and the valiant actes that he did, & of his worthines, they are not written: for they were very many.
- 22 ¶ Now after the death of Iudas, wicked men came vp in all the coastes of Israel, & there arose all suche as gaue them selues to iniquitie.
- 23 In those daies was there a very great famine in the land, and all the countrey gaue ouer them selues with them.
- 24 And Bacchides did chuse wicked men, and made them lords in the land.
- 25 These fought out, and made searche for Iudas friends, and broght them vnto Bacchides, which aduēged him self vpon the, and mocked them.
- 26 And there came so great trouble in Israel, as was not since the time that no Prophet was sene among them.
- 27 Then came all Iudas friends together, & said vnto Jonathan,
- 28 Seing thy brother Iudas is dead, & there is none like him to go forthe against our enemies, euen against Bacchides, and against the of our nacion that are enemies vnto vs,
- 29 Therefore, this day we chuse thee that thou maist be our prince and captaine in his place to order our battel.
- 30 So Jonathan toke the gouernance vpon him at the same time, and ruled in stead of his brother Iudas.
- 31 But when Bacchides knewe it, he fought for to slay him.
- 32 Then Jonathan and Simon his brother, perceiuing that, fled into the wildernes of Thecua with all their companie, and pitched their tentes by the water poole of Alphar.

Or, against the enemies of our nation.

I. Maccabees.

- 34 Which when Bacchides vnderſtoode, he came ouer Iorden with all his hoſte vpon the Sabbath day.
- 35 (Now had Ionathan ſent his brother Iohn, a captaine of the people, to pray his friends the Nabathites, that they wolde kepe their baggage which was muche.
- ^{Or, Iamiri.} 36 But the children of Ambri came out of Medaba, & toke Iohn, and all that he had, & when they had taken it, went their way.
- 37 After this came worde vnto Ionathan, and to Simon his brother, that the children of Ambri made a great marriage, & broght the bride from Medaba with great pompe: for ſhe was daughter to one of the nobleſt princes of Canaan.
- ^{Or, Nabalab.} 38 Therefore they remembred Iohn their brother, and went vp, and hid them ſelues vnder the couert of the mountaine.
- 39 So they liſt vp their eyes, and looked, and beholde, there was a great noyce, & muche preparation: then the bridegrome came forthe, and his friends and his brethren met them with tymbrels, and instruments of muſike, and manie weapons.
- 40 Then Ionathans men that lay in ambuſhe, roſe vp againſt the, & ſlew manie of them, and the remnant fled into the mountains, ſo that they toke all their ſpoiles.
- 41 Thus the marriage was turned to mourning, and the noyce of their melodie into lamentacion.
- 42 And ſo when they had aduenged the blood of their brother, they turned againe vnto Iorden.
- 43 When Bacchides heard this, he came vnto the border of Iorden with a great power vpon the Sabbath day.)
- 44 Then Ionathan ſaid vnto his companie, Let vs riſe now, & fight againſt our enemies: for it is not to day as in time paſt.
- 45 Beholde, y^e battel is before vs, and behinde vs, and the water of Iorden on this ſide and that ſide, and the mariſe, and foreſt, ſo y^e there is no place for vs to turne aſide.
- 46 Wherefore crye now vnto heauen, that ye may be deliuered from the power of your enemies: ſo they ioyned battel.
- 47 Then Ionathan ſtretched out his hand to ſmite Bacchides: but he turned aſide fro him and reculed.
- 48 Then Ionathan, and they that were with him, leapt into Iorden, and ſwimmec ouer vnto the further ſhore: but the other wolde not paſſe through Iorden after them.
- 49 So in that day were ſlaine of Bacchides ſide about a thouſand men.
- 50 Then he turned againe to Ieruſalem, & buylt vp the ſtrong cities in Iuda, as the caſtel of Iericho, and Emmaus, and Bethoron, and Bethel, and Thamnatha, Pharaohoni, & Tephro, with high walles, with gates, and with barres,
- 51 And ſet garifons in the, that they might vſe their malice vpon Iſrael.
- 52 He fortified alſo the citie Beth-ſura, and Gazara, and the caſtel, & ſet a garifon in them with prouiſion of vitayles.
- 53 He toke alſo the chiefſt mens ſonnes in the countrey for hoſtages, and put them in the caſtel at Ieruſalem to be kept.
- 54 ¶ Afterwarde in the hundreth, ſiftie and thre yere, in the ſeconde moneth, Alcimus commanded, that the walles of the inner court of the Sanctuarie ſhulde be deſtroied, and he pulled downe the monumentes of the Prophetes, and began to deſtroy them.
- 55 But at the ſame time Alcimus was plagued, and his enterpriſes were hindered, & his mouth was ſtopped: for he was ſmitten with a palfie, & colde no more ſpeake, nor giue order concerning his houſe.
- 56 Thus dyed Alcimus with great torment at the ſame time.
- 57 And when Bacchides ſawe, that Alcimus was dead, he turned againe to the King, & ſo the land of Iuda was in reſt two yeres.
- 58 Then all the yngodlie men helde a counſel, ſaying, Beholde, Ionathan and his companie dwell at eaſe, & without care: wherefore let vs bring Bacchides hither, and he wil take them all in one night.
- 59 So they went and conſulted with him.
- 60 Who aroſe and came with a great hoſte, and ſent letters priuely to his adherentes, which were in Iudea, to take Ionathan and thoſe that were with him: but they coulde not, for their counſel was knowen vnto them.
- 61 And they toke ſiftie men of the countrey, which were the chief workers of this wickednes, and ſlew them.
- ^{Or, Inuaba.} 62 ¶ Then Ionathan and Simon with their companie departed vnto Beth-baſin which is in the wildernes, and repaired the decay thereof, and made it ſtrong.
- ^{Or, Beth-baſin.} 63 When Bacchides knewe this, he gathered all his hoſte, and ſent worde to them that were of Iudea.
- 64 Then came he & laid ſiege to Beth-baſin, and fought againſt it a long ſeaſon, and made instruments of warre.
- 65 But Ionathan had left his brother Simon in the citie, & went forthe into the countrey, and came with a certeine number,
- 66 And ſlew Odomeras and his brethren and the children of Phafiron in their tentes: ſo he began to ſlaye, and increaſed in power.
- ^{Or, Odmer.} 67 Simon alſo and his companie went out of the citie, and burnt vp the instruments of warre,
- 68 And fought againſt Bacchides, and diſcōfited him, and vexed him fore, ſo that his counſel and iorney was in vaine.
- 69 Wherefore he was very wroth at y^e wicked

ked men, that gaue him counfel to come into the countrey, & fawe many of them, and purposed to returne into his owne countrey.

70 Whereof when Ionathan had knowledge, he sent ambassadours vnto him, to intreat of peace with him, & that the prisoners shulde be deliuered.

71 Which thing he accepted, and did according to his desire, and made an othe, that he wolde neuer do him harme all the daies of his life.

72 So he restored vnto him the prisoners that he had taken afore time out of the lād of Iuda, and so returned and went into his owne land, nether did he come any more into their borders.

73 Thus the sworde ceased from Israel, and Ionathan dwelt at Machmas, and began there to gouerne the people, and destroyed the vngodlic men out of Israel.

CHAP. X.

Demetrius desireth to haue peace with Ionathan. 12. Alexander also desireth peace with the Iewes. 48. Alexander maketh warre against Demetrius. 50. Demetrius is slayne. 51. The friendship of Ptolemus & Alexander.

Ioseph. Antiq. 12. chap. 2. 3.

IN the hundreth and thre score yere came Alexander the sonne of Antiochus Epiphanes, and toke Ptolemas, and they receiued him, and there he reigned.

2 Now when Demetrius the King heard it, he gathered an exceeding great hoste, and went forthe against him to fight.

3 Also Demetrius sent letters vnto Ionathā, with louig wordes, as thogh he wolde preferre him.

4 For he said, We wil first make peace with him, before he ioyne with Alexander against vs.

5 Els he wil remember all the euil that we haue done against him, & against his brethren and his nacion.

6 And so he gaue Ionathan leaue to gather an hoste, and to prepare weapons, and to be confederate with him, and commanded the hostages that were in the castel, to be deliuered vnto him.

7 ¶ Then came Ionathan to Ierusalem, and red the letters in the audience of all the people, & of them that were in the castel.

8 Therefore they were sore afrased, because they heard that the King had giuē him licence to gather an armie.

9 So they that were of the castel, deliuered the hostages vnto Ionathian, who restored them to their parents.

10 Ionathan also dwelt at Ierusalem, & began to buyld, and repara the citie.

11 And he commanded the workemen to buyld the walles, & the mount Sion rounde about with hewen stone, to fortifie it: & so they did.

12 Then the strangers that were in the castels which Bacchides had made, fled, 13 So that euerie man left his place, & went into his owne countrey.

14 Onely at Beth-sura remained certeine which had forsaken the Law and the commandements: for it was their refuge.

15 ¶ Now when King Alexander had heard of the promises that Demetrius had made vnto Ionathan: and when it was tolde him of the battels and noble actes, which he and his brethren had done, and of the paines that they had indured, 16 He said, Might we finde suche a mā: now therefore we wil make him our friend and confederate.

17 Vpon this he wrote a letter, and sent it vnto him, with these wordes, saying,

18 KING ALEXANDER to his brother Ionathan sendeth salutation.

19 We haue heard of thee, that thou art a very valiant man, and worthie to be our friend.

20 Wherefore this day we ordeine thee to be the hie Priest of thy nacion, and to be called the Kings friend: and he sent him a purple robe, and a crowne of golde, that thou maist consider what is for our profite, and kepe friendship towards vs.

Or. mirr. Or. raye 100 part.

21 So in the seuēth moneth of the hundreth and thre score yere, vpon the feast daye of the tabernacles, Ionathan put on the holie garment, & gathered an hoste, & prepared many weapons.

22 ¶ Which when Demetrius heard, he was marueilous fory, and said,

Ioseph. Antiq. 12. chap. 3.

23 What haue we done, that Alexander hath prevented vs in getting the friendship of the Iewes for his strength?

24 Yet wil I write and exhorde them, and promes them dignities and rewardes, that they may helpe me.

25 Whereupon he wrote vnto them these wordes, KING DEMETRIUS vnto the nacions of the Iewes sendeth greeting.

26 We haue heard that ye haue kept your couenant towards vs, and continued in our friendship, and haue not ioyned with our enemies, whereof we are glad.

27 Now therefore remaine stil, and kepe fidelitie towards vs, and we wil recompense you for the good things that ye haue done for vs,

28 And wil release you of many charges, & giue you rewardes.

29 And now I discharge for your sake all the Iewes from tributes, & fre you from the customs of salte, and the crowne taxes, and from the thirde parte of the sode.

30 And fro the halfe of the frute of y trees which is mine owne duetie, I so release the a And of the countrie beyon

de Iordan, as Iosephus writteth.

- that fro this day forth, none shal take any thing of the land of Iuda, or of the three gouernements which are added thereunto as of Samaria and of Galile,^a from this daye forthe for euermore.
- 31 Ierusalem also with all things belonging thereto, shalbe holie and fre from the tenthes and tributes.
- 32 Also I releafe the power of the castel which is at Ierusalem, and giue it vnto the hie Priest, y he may set in it suche men, as he shal chuse to kepe it.
- 33 Moreouer I frely deliuer euerie one of the Iewes that were taken away prisoners out of the land of Iuda through out all my realme, and euerie one of them shalbe free from tributes, yea, euen their catel,
- 34 And all the feastes, and Sabbaths, & new moones, and the daies appointed and the three daies before the feast, & the three daies after the feast, shalbe daies of fredome & libertie for all the Iewes in my realme,
- 35 So that in them no man shal haue power to do any thing, or to vex any of them in any maner of cause.
- 36 Also thirtie thousand of the Iewes shalbe writen vp in the Kings hoste, and haue their wages paid them as apperteineth to all them that are of the Kings armie: and of the shalbe ordeined certeine to kepe y Kings strong holdes.
- 37 And some of them shalbe set ouer the Kings moste secret affaires, and their gouernours and their princes shalbe of them selues, and they shal liue after their owne lawes, as the King hath commanded in the land of Iuda.
- 38 And the three gouernements that are added vnto Iudea from the countrie of Samaria, shalbe ioyned vnto Iudea, and they shalbe as vnder one, and obey none other power, but the hie Priest.
- 39 And I giue Ptolemais & the borders thereof vnto the Sanctuarie at Ierusalem, for the necessarie expēses of the holie things.
- 40 Moreouer, I wil giue euerie yere fiftene thousand sicles of siluer of the Kings reuenues out of the places appertaining vnto me.
- 41 And all the ouerplus which they haue not paid for the things due, as they did in the former yeres, from hence forthe they shal giue it towarde the workes of the Temple.
- 42 And besides this, the five thousand sicles of siluer which they receiued yerely of the accounte appointed for the intertenemēt of the Sanctuarie, these yeres passed, euen these things shalbe releafed because they appertaine to the Priests that minister.
- 43 Item, whofoeuer they be that flee vnto the Temple at Ierusalem, or within the liberties thereof, and are indented to y King for any maner of thing, they shalbe pardoned, and all that they haue in my realme.
- 44 For the buylding also and repairing of the workes of the Sanctuarie, expenses shal be giuen of the Kings reuenues.
- 45 And for the making of the walles of Ierusalem, and fortifying it rounde about that the holdes in Iudea may be buylt vp, shal also the costes be giuen out of the Kings reuenues.
- 46 ¶ But when Jonathan & the people heard these wordes, thei gaue no credit vnto the, nether receiued them: for thei remembered the great wickednes that he had done in Israel, and how fore he had vexed them.
- 47 Wherefore they agreed vnto Alexander: for he was the first that had intreated of true peace with them, and so were confederat with him alway.
- 48 Then gathered King Alexander a great hoste, & camped ouer against Demetrius.
- 49 So the two Kings ioyned battel, but Demetrius hoste fled, and Alexander pursued him, and preuailed against them.
- 50 So that fore battel continued til the sunne went downe, and Demetrius was slaine the same day.
- 51 ¶ Then Alexander sent ambassadours Ioseph. Antiq. 11. chap. 5. vnto Ptolemeus the King of Egypt with these wordes, saying,
- 52 For so muche as I am come againe to my realme, and am set in the throne of my fathers, and haue gotten the dominion, and haue destroyed Demetrius, and enioye my country,
- 53 Seing that I haue euen giuen him the battel, and he and his armie is discomfited by me, & I sit in the throne of his kingdome,
- 54 Let vs now make friendship together, and giue me now thy daughter to wife: so shal I be thy sonne in law, and giue thee rewarde, and vnto her things according to thy dignitie.
- 55 Then Ptolemeus the King gaue answer, saying, Happie be the day, wherein thou art come againe vnto the lande of thy fathers, and sittest in the throne of their kingdome.
- 56 Now therefore wil I fulfil thy writing: but mete me at Ptolemais that we may see one another, and that I may make thee my sonne in law, according to thy desire.
- 57 So Ptolemeus wēt out of Egypt with his daughter Cleopatra, & came vnto Ptolemais in the hūdreth threscore & two yere,
- 58 Where King Alexander met him, and he gaue vnto him his daughter Cleopatra, and married them at Ptolemais with great glorie, as the maner of Kings is.
- 59 ¶ Then wrote King Alexander vnto Jonathan, that he shulde come and mete him.
- 60 So he went honorably vnto Ptolemais, and there he met the two Kings, and gaue them

- them great presents of siluer and golde, and to their friends, and founde fauour in their fight.
- 61 And there assembled certeine pestilent felowes of Israel, & wicked men to accuse him: but the King wolde not heare them.
- 62 And the King commanded that they shulde take of the garments of Ionathan, & clothe him in purple: and so they did: & the King appointed him to sit by him,
- 63 And said vnto his princes, Go with him into the middes of the citie, and make a proclamacion, that no man complaine against him of anie matter, & that no man trouble him for anie maner of cause.
- 64 So when his accusers sawe his honour accordig as it was proclaimed, and that he was clothed in purple, they fled all away.
- 65 And the King preferred him to honour, and wrote him among his chief friends, and made him a duke, and partaker of his dominion.
- 66 Thus Ionathan returned to Ierusalem with peace and gladnes.
- 67 ¶ In the hundreth, thre score & fise yere came Demetrius the sonne of Demetrius from Creta into his fathers land.
- 68 Whereof whē King Alexander heard, he was verie sorie, and returned vnto Antiochia.
- 69 Then Demetrius appointed Apollonius ſy gouernour of Celoſyria, who gathered a great hoste, and camped in Iamnia, and sent vnto Ionathan the hie Priest, saying,
- 70 Darest thou, being but alone, lift vp thy self against vs? and I am laughed at, and reproched, because of thee: now therefore why doest thou vant thy self against vs in the mountaines?
- 71 Now then if thou trust in thine owne strength, come downe to vs into the plaine field & there let vs trye the matter together: for I haue the strength of cities.
- 72 Aske and learne who I am, and thei shal take my parte: and they shal tell thee that your fore is not able to stand before our face: for thy fathers haue bene twice chased in their owne land.
- 73 And now how wilt thou be able to abide so great an hoste of horsemen and foreme in the plaine, where is nether stone, nor rocke, nor place to flee vnto?
- 74 When Ionathan heard the wordes of Apollonius, he was moued in his miſde: wherefore he chose ten thousand men, and went out of Ierusalem, & Simon his brother met him for to helpe him.
- 75 And he pitched his tents at Ioppe: but they shut him out of the citie: for Apollonius garison was in Ioppe.
- 76 Then they foght against it, and they that were in the citie, for verie feare let him in: so Ionathan wan Ioppe.
- 77 Apollonius hearing of this, toke thre thousand horseme with a great hoste of ſore men & went towarde Azotus, as thogh he wolde go forwarde, & came immediatly into ſy plaine field, because he had so manie horsemen, and put his trust in them.
- 78 So Ionathan followed vpon him to Azotus, and the armie skirmished with his arriere bande.
- 79 For Apollonius had left a thousand horsemen behinde them in ambush.
- 80 And Ionathan knewe that there was an ambushment behinde him, and thogh they had compassed in his hoste, & shot dartes at the people from the morning to the euenig,
- 81 Yet the people stode stil, as Ionathan had commanded them; til their horses were wearie.
- 82 Then broght Simon forthe his hoste, & set them against the bande: but the horses were wearie, and he discomfited them, & thei fled: so the horsemen were scattered in the field,
- 83 And they fled to Azotus, and came into the temple of Dagon their idole, that thei might there saue them selues.
- 84 But Ionathan set fyre vpon Azotus and all the cities rounde about it, & toke their spoiles, and burnt with fyre the temple of Dagon with all the that were fled into it.
- 85 Thus were slayne and burnt about eight thousand men.
- 86 So Ionathan remoued the hoste from thence, and camped by Ascalon, where the men of the citie came forthe, & met him with great honour.
- 87 After this went Ionathan and his hoste againe to Ierusalem with great spoiles.
- 88 And when King Alexander heard these things, he begā to do Ionathan more honour,
- 89 And sent him a colar of golde, as the vse is to be giuen vnto suche as are of the Kings blood: he gaue him also Accaron, with the borders thereof in possession.

CHAP. XI.

3 The diffension betwene Ptolemus and Alexander his sonne in law. 17 The death of Alexander. 19 Demetrius reigneth after the death of Ptolemus. 22 Sion is besieged of Ionathan. 42 Demetrius seeing that no man resisted him, sendeth his armie againe. 54 Tryphon moueth Antiochus against Demetrius.

And the King of Egypt gathered a great hoste, like the land that lyeth vpon the sea shore, and manie ships, and went about through deceit to obtaine the kingdome of Alexander, and to ioyne it vnto his owne realme.

Vpon this he went into Syria with friendlie wordes, and was let into the cities, and men came forthe to mete him: for King Alexander had commanded them to mete him, because he was his father in Law.

I. Maccabees.

- 3 Now when he entred into the citie of Ptolemais, he lefte bands and garifons in euerie citie.
- 4 And when he came nere to Azorus, they shewed him the temple of Dagon that was burnt, and Azorus, and the suburbes thereof that were destroyed, and the bodies cast abroad, and them that he had burnt in the battel: for they had made heapes of them by the way where he shulde passe.
- 5 And then tolde the King what Ionathan had done, to the intent they might get him euil wil: but the King helde his peace.
- 6 And Ionathan met the King with great honour at Ioppe, where they saluted one another, and laye there.
- 7 So when Ionathan had gone with the King vnto the water that was called Eleutherus, he turned againe to Ierusalem.
- 8 So King Ptolemeus gate the dominion of the cities by the sea vnto Seleucia vpon the sea coast, imagining wicked counsels against Alexander,
- 9 ¶ And sent ambassadours vnto King Demetrius, sayig, Come, let vs make a league betwene vs, and I wil giue thee my daughter, which Alexander hathe, and thou shalt reigne in thy fathers kingdome.
- 10 For I repent that I gaue Alexander my daughter: for he goeth about to slay me.
- 11 Thus he sclandered Alexander, as one that shulde desire his realme.
- 12 And he toke his daughter from him, and gaue her vnto Demetrius, and forsoke Alexander, so that their hatred was openly known.
- 13 Then Ptolemeus came to Antiochia, where he set two crownes vpon his owne head, of Asia and of Egypt.
- 14 In the meane season was King Alexander in Cilicia: for they that dwelt in those places, had rebelled against him:
- 15 But when Alexander heard it, he came to warre against him, and Ptolemeus broght forth the his hoste, and met him with a mightie power, and put him to flight.
- 16 Then fled Alexander into Arabia, there to be defended: so Ptolemeus was exalted.
- 17 And Zabdiel the Arabian smote of Alexanders head, & sent it vnto Ptolemeus.
- 18 But the third day after, King Ptolemeus dyed: and they that were in the holdes, were slayne one of another.
- 19 And Demetrius reigned in the hundredth, thre score and seuenth yere.
- 20 ¶ At the same time gathered Ionathan them that were in Iudea, to laye siege vnto the castle, which was at Ierusalem, and they made manie instruments of warre against it.
- 21 Then went there certeine vngodlie persones (which hated their owne people) vnto King Demetrius, and tolde him that Ionathan besieged the castle.
- 22 So when he heard it, he was angrie, and immediatly came vnto Ptolemais, & wrote vnto Ionathan, that he shulde laye no more siege vnto it, but that he shulde meete him and speake with him at Ptolemais in all haste.
- 23 Neuertheles when Ionathan heard this, he commanded to besiege it: he chose also certeine of the Elders of Israel, and the Priests, and put him self in danger,
- 24 And toke with him siluer and golde, and apparel, and diuerse presents, and went to Ptolemais vnto the King, and founde fauour in his sight.
- 25 And though certeine vngodlie men of his owne nacion had made complaints vpon him,
- 26 Yet the King intreated him as his predecessors had done, and promoted him in the sight of all his friends,
- 27 And confirmed him in the hie priesthood with all the honorable things, that he had afore, & made him his chief friend.
- 28 Ionathan also desired the King, that he wolde make Iudea free with the thre gouernemets, & the countrey of Samaria, & Ionathan promised him thre hundred talents.
- 29 Whereunto the King consented, & gaue Ionathan writing of the same, containing these wordes,
- 30 KING DEMETRIUS vnto his brother Ionathan, and to the nacion of the Iewes sendeth greeting.
- 31 We send you here a copie of the letter, which we did write vnto our cousin Lasthenes concerning you, that ye shulde see it.
- 32 King Demetrius vnto Lasthenes his father sendeth greeting.
- 33 For the faithfulness that our friends the nacion of the Iewes kepe vnto vs, and for their good wil towards vs we are determined to do them good.
- 34 Wherefore we assigne to the the coasts of Iudea with the thre gouernements Apherema, and Lydda, and Ramathe (which are added vnto Iudea from the countrey of Samaria) and all that apperteineth to all them that sacrifice in Ierusalem: bothe concerning the payments which the King toke yerely aforetime, bothe for the frutes of the earth, & for the frutes of the trees.
- 35 As for the other things apperteining vnto vs of the tenths & tributes, which were due vnto vs, and the customes of salte, & crowne taxes, which were payed vnto vs, we discharge the of all fro hence forth.
- 36 And nothing hereof shalbe reuoked fro this time forth and for euer.
- 37 Therefore see that ye make a copie of these things, and deliuer it vnto Ionathan, that it may be set vp vpon the holy mount in an open place.

- 38 After this when Demetrius the King sawe that his land was in rest, and that no resistance was made against him, he sent away all his hoste, euerie man to his owne place, except certeine bandes of strangers, whome he broght from the yles of the heathen: wherefore all his fathers hoste hated him.
- 39 Now was there one Tryphon, that had bene of Alexanders parte afore, which whē he sawe that all his hoste murmured against Demetrius, he went to Simalcue the Arabian, that broght vp Antiochus the sonne of Alexander,
- 40 And lay fore vpon him, to deliuer him this yong Antiochus, that he might reigne in his fathers stead: he tolde him also what great euil Demetrius had done, and how his men of warre hated him, and he remained there, a long season.
- 41 Also Ionathan sent vnto King Demetrius to driue them out which were in the castel at Ierusalem, and those that were in the fortresses: for they fought against Israel.
- 42 So Demetrius sent vnto Ionathā, saying, I wil not onely do these things for thee & thy nacion, but if opportunitie serue, I wil honour thee and thy nacion.
- 43 Now therefore thou shalt do me a pleasure, if thou wilt send me mē to helpe me: for all mine armie is gone from me.
- 44 So Ionathā sent him thre thousand strong men vnto Antiochia, and they came vnto the King: wherefore the King was verie glad at their comming.
- 45 ¶ But they that were of the citie, euen an hundredth, and twentie thousand men, gathered them together in the middes of the citie, & wolde haue slaine the King.
- 46 But the King fled into the palace, & the citizens kept the stretes of the citie, and beganne to fight.
- 47 Then the King called to the Iewes for helpe, which came to him altogether, and went abroade through the citie,
- 48 And slewe the same day an hundredth thousand, and set fyre vpon the citie, and toke many spoiles in that day, & deliuered the King.
- 49 So when the citizens sawe that the Iewes had gotten the vpper hand of the citie, and that they them selues were disappointed of their purpose, they made their supplication vnto the King, saying,
- 50 ¶ Grant vs peace, and let the Iewes cease from vexing vs and the citie.
- 51 So they cast away their weapons, & made peace, and the Iewes were greatly honored before the King, and before all that were in his realme, and they came againe to Ierusalem with great pray.
- 52 Then King Demetrius fate in the throne of his kingdome, and had peace in his land.
- 53 Neuertheles he dissembled in all that euer he spake, and withdrew him self from Ionathan, nether did he rewarde him according to the benefices which he had done for him, but troubled him verie sore.
- 54 ¶ After this returned Tryphon with the yong childe Antiochus, which reigned, & was crowned.
- 55 Then there gathered vnto him all the mē of warre, whome Demetrius had scatered, and they fought against him, who fled and turned his backe.
- 56 So Tryphon toke the beastes, and wan Antiochia.
- 57 And yong Antiochus wrote vnto Ionathan, saying, I appoint thee to be the chief Priest, and make thee ruler ouer the foure gouernements, that thou maist be a friend of the Kings.
- 58 Vpon this he sent him golden vessels to be serued in, and gaue him leaue to drinke in golde, and to weare purple, & to haue a colar of golde.
- 59 He made his brother Simon also captaine frō the coastes of Tyrus vnto the borders of Egypt.
- 60 Then Ionathan went forth and passed through the cities beyonde the flood, and all the men of warre of Syria gathered vnto him for to helpe him: so he came vnto Ascalon, & they of the citie receued him honorably.
- 61 And from thence went he vnto Gaza: but they of Gaza shut him out: wherefore he laid siege vnto it, and burned the suburbs thereof with fyre, and spoiled them.
- 62 Then they of Gaza made supplication vnto Ionathan, and he made peace with them, and toke of the sonnes of the chief men for hostages, and sent them to Ierusalem, and went through the countrey vnto Damascus.
- 63 And when Ionathan heard that Demetrius prices were come into Cades, which is in Galile, with a great hoste, purposing to driue him out of the countrey,
- 64 He came against them, & left Simon his brother in the countrey.
- 65 And Simon besieged Beth-sura, and foght against it a long season, and shut it vp.
- 66 So they desired to haue peace with him, which he granted them, and afterwarde put them out from thence, and toke the citie, and set a garison in it.
- 67 Then Ionathan with his hoste came to the water of Genesfar, and betimes in the morning came to the plaine of Azor.
- 68 And beholde the hostes of the strangers met him in the plaine, and had layed anti-bushments for him in the mountaines.

69 So that when they came against them, the ambushments rose out of their places and skirmished.

Or, Abissalmon.

70 So that all that were of Ionathans side, fled: and there was not one of them left, except Mattathias the sonne of Absalomus, and Iudas the sonne of Calphi the captaines of the hoste.

71 Then Jonathan rent his clothes, and cast earth vpon his head, and prayed, 72 And turned againe to them to fight, and put them to flight, so that they fled away.

73 Now when his owne men that were fled, sawe this, they turned againe vnto him, & helped him to followe after all vnto their tentes at Cades, and there they camped.

74 So there were slaine of the strangers the same day about thre thousand men, & Ionathan turned againe to Ierusalem.

CHAP. XII.

1. Ionathan sendeth ambassadours to Rome. 2. And to the people of Sparta, to renewe their covenant of friendship. 3. Ionathan putteth to flight the princes of Demetrius. 4. Tryphon taketh Ionathan by disceise.

Ioseph. Anti. 12 chap. 8.

1 Ionathan now seeing that the time was mete for him, chose certeine men, and sent them vnto Rome, to establish and renew the friendship with them.

Or, Lacedemonias.

2 He sent letters also vnto the Spartians and to other places, for the same purpose.

3 So they went vnto Rome, and entred into the Senate, and said, Ionathan the hie Priest and the nacion of the Iewes sent vs vnto you, for to renewe friendship with you, and the bonde of loue, as in times past.

4 So the Romaines gaue them fre passports, that men shulde lead them home into the land of Iuda peaceably.

5 ¶ AND THIS is the copie of the letters that Ionathan wrote vnto the Spartians,

6 Ionathan the hie Priest with the Elders of the nacion, and the Priests, and the rest of the people of the Iewes, send greting vnto the Spartians their brethren.

Ioseph. Anti. 12 chap. 5. Or, Danus.

7 Heretofore were letters sent vnto Onias the hie Priest, from Arius, which then reigned among you, that ye wolde be our brethren, as the copie here vnder written specifeth.

8 And Onias intreated the ambassadour honorably, and receiued the letters: wherein there was mencion made of the bonde of loue and friendship.

9 But as for vs, we nede no suche writings: for we haue the holy bokcs in our hands for comfort.

10 Neuertheles we thought it good to send vnto you, for the renewing of the brotherhode and friendship, lest we shulde be strange vnto you: for it is long since the time that ye sent vnto vs.

11 Wherefore we remember you at all seasons continually, and in the feastes and other daies appointed when we offre sacrifices and prayers, as it is mete and conuenient to thinke vpon our brethren.

12 And we reioyce at your prosperous estate.

13 And though we haue bene enuironed with great troubles & warres, so that the Kings rounde about vs haue fought against vs,

14 Yet wolde we not be grieuous vnto you, nor to other of our cōfederates & friends in these warres.

15 For we haue had helpe from heauen, that hath succoured vs, and we are deliuered from our enemies, and our enemies are subdued.

16 Yet haue we chosen Numenius the sonne of Antiochus, and Antipater the sonne of Iason, and sent them vnto the Romaines, for to renewe the former friendship with them, and league.

17 We commanded them also to go vnto you, and to salute you, and to deliuer you our letters, cōcerning the renewing of our brotherhode.

18 And now ye shal do vs a pleasure to giue vs an answer of these things.

19 ¶ And this was the copie of the letters, which Arius the King of Sparta sent vnto Onias.

20 T H E K I N G of the Spartians vnto Onias the hie Priest sendeth greting.

21 It is founde in writing, that the Spartians and Iewes are brethren, and come out of the generacion of Abraham.

22 And now for somuche as this is come to our knowledge, ye shal do wel, to write vnto vs of your prosperitie.

23 As for vs, we haue writen vnto you, that your cattel and goods are ours, and ours are yours: these things haue we commanded to be shewed vnto you.

24 ¶ Now when Ionathan heard, that Demetrius princes were come to fight against him, with a greater hoste then afore, 25 He went from Ierusalem, and met them in the land of Hamath: for he gaue the north space to come into his owne countrey.

26 And he sent spies vnto their tetes, which came againe, and tolde him, that they were appointed to come vpon him in the night.

27 Wherefore, whē the sunne was gone downe, Ionathan commanded his men to watche, and to be in armes ready to fight all the night, & sent watchmen rounde about the hoste.

28 But when the aduersaries heard that Ionathan was ready with his men to the battel, they feared, and trembled in their hearts.

hearts, and kindled fyres in their tentes, and fled away.

39 Neuertheles Ionathan and his companie knewe it not til the morning: for thei sawe the fyres burning.

40 Then Ionathan followed vpon them, but he colde not ouertake them: for they were gone ouer the flood Eleutherus.

41 So Ionathā turned to the Arabiās, which were called Zabedei, and slewe them, and toke their spoile.

42 He proceded further also, and came vnto Damascus, and went through all the countrey.

43 But Simon his brother went forthe, and came to Ascalon and to the next holdes, departing vnto Ioppe, and wanne it.

44 For he heard that they wolde deliuer the holde to them that toke Demetrius parte: wherefore he set a garison there to kepe it.

45 ¶ After this came Ionathan home, and called the Elders of the people together, and deuised with them for to buyld vp the strong holdes in Iudea,

46 And to make the walles of Ierusalem hier, and to make a great mount betwixt the castel and the citie, for to separate it from the citie, that it might be alone, and that men shulde nether bye, nor sel in it.

47 So they came together to buyld vp the citie: for parte of the wall vpon the broke of the East side was fallen downe, and they repaired it, and called it Caphenatha.

48 Simon also set vp Adida in Sephela, & made it strong with gates and barres.

39 ¶ In the meane time Tryphon purposed to reigne in Asia, and to be crowned when he had slaine the King Antiochus.

40 But he was afraied that Ionathan wolde not suffer him, but fight against him: wherefore he went about to take Ionathan, and to kil him: so he departed, and came vnto Bethsan.

41 Then went Ionathā forthe against him to the battel with fortie thousand chosen men, and came vnto Bethsan.

42 But when Tryphon sawe that Ionathan came with so great an hoste, he durst not lay hand vpon him,

43 But receiued him honorably, and commended him vnto all his friends, and gaue him rewardes, and cōmanded his men of warre to be as obedient vnto him as to him self,

44 And said vnto Ionathan, Why hast thou caused this people to take suche trauail, seing there is no warre betwene vs?

45 Therefore send them now home againe, and chuse certeine men to wait vpon thee, and come thou with me to Ptolemis: for I wil giue it thee, with the other strong holdes, and the other garisons, and all them that haue the charge of the cōmune affaires: so wil I returne, & departe: for this is the cause of my comming.

46 Ionathan beleued him, & did as he said, and sent away his hoste, which went into the land of Iuda, 47 And retained but thre thousand with him, whereof he sent two thousand into Galile, & one thousand went with him self.

48 Now as sone as Ionathā entred into Ptolemis, they of Ptolemis shut the gates, and toke him, and slewe all them with the sworde, that came in with him.

49 Then sent Tryphon an hoste of fote-men, & horsemen into Galile, & into the great plaine, to destroye all Ionathā's companie.

50 But when they knewe that Ionathā was taken, and slaine, and those that were with him, they encouraged one another, and came forthe against them readie to the battel.

51 But when thei which followed vpon the, sawe that it was a matter of life, they turned backe againe.

52 By this meanes all they came into the land of Iuda peaceably, and bewailed Ionathan, and them that were with him, and feared greatly, and all Israel made great lamentacion.

53 For all the heathē that were round about them, sought to destroye them.

54 For they said, Nowe haue they no captaine, nor anie man to helpe them: therefore let vs now fight against them, and roote out their memorie from among men.

CHAP. XIII.

1 After Ionathan was taken, Simon is chosen captaine. 17 Tryphon, taking his children, and money for the redemption of Ionathan, killeth him and his children. 31 Tryphon killeth Antiochus, and possesseth the realme. 36 Demetrius taketh vs with Simon. 43 Simon wemmeth Gaz. 50 He possesseth the tower of Sion. 53 He maketh his sonne Iohn captaine.

1 Now when Simō heard that Tryphō gathered a great hoste to come into the land of Iuda, and to destroye it,

2 And sawe that the people was in great trembling and feare, he came vp to Ierusalem, and gathered the people together,

3 And gaue them exhortacion, saying, Ye knowe what great things I, & my brethré, & my fathers house haue done for y^e Law, and the Sanctuarie, and the battels, & troubles that we haue sene.

4 By reason whereof all my brethren are slaine for Israels sake, and I am left alone.

5 Now therefore God forbide, that I shulde spare mine owne life in anie time of trouble: for I am not better then my brethren.

6 But I wil aduenge my nacion, and the Sanctuarie, and our wiues, and our children: for all the heathen are gathered together to destroy vs of very malice.

7 In hearing these wordes the hearts of the people were kindled,

8 So that they cryed with a loude voyce, sayig, Thou shalt be our captaine in stead of Iudas and Ionathan thy brethren.

9 Fight thou our battels, and whatsoeuer thou commandest vs, we wil do it.

10 ¶ So he gathered all the men of warre, making haste to finish the walles of Ierusalem, and fortified it rounde about.

11 Then sent he Ionathan the sonne of Abisalomus with a great hoste vnto Ioppe, which droue them out that were therein, & remained there him self.

12 Tryphon also remoued from Ptolemais with a great armie, to come into the lād of Iuda, & Ionathā was with him as prisoner.

* Or, Addur.

13 And Simon pitched his tentes at Addidis vpon the open plaine.

14 But when Tryphon knewe that Simon stode vp in stead of his brother Ionathan, & that he wolde fight against him, he sent messengers vnto him, saying,

15 Where as we haue kept Ionathā thy brother, it is for money that he is owing in the Kings account cōcerning the busines that he had in hand.

16 Wherefore send now an hundred talents of siluer, & his two sonnes for hostages, y when he is letten forthe, he wil not turne from vs, and we wil send him againe.

17 Neuertheles Simō knewe that he dissembled in his wordes, yet commanded he the money and children to be deliured vnto him, lest he shulde be in greater hatred of the people of Israel.

18 Who might haue said, Because he sent him not the money and the children, therefore is Ionathan dead.

19 So he sent the children and an hundred talents: but he dissembled, and wolde not let Ionathan go.

20 ¶ Afterwarde came Tryphon into the land to destroye it, & went rounde about by the way, that leadeth vnto Adora: but whersoever thei went, thether went Simō and his hoste.

21 Now they that were in the castel, sent messengers vnto Tryphon, that he shulde make haste to come by the wilderness, & to send them vitales.

22 So Tryphon made readie all his horsemen: but the same night fell a very great snowe, so that he came not, because of the snowe: but he remoued and went into the cōuntry of Galaad.

23 And when he came nere to Bascama, he slewe Ionathan and he was buried there.

24 So Tryphon returned, & went into his owne land.

25 ¶ Then sent Simon to take the bones of Ionathan his brother, & they buried him in Modin his fathers cities.

26 And all Israel bewailed him with great lamentacion, & mourned for him verie long.

27 And Simon made vpon the sepulchre of his father & his brethren, a buylding high to loke vnto, of hewen stone behinde and before,

28 And set vp seuen pillers vpon it, one against another, for his father, his mother, and foure brethren,

29 And set great pillers round about them, and set armes vpon the pillers for a perpetual memorie, and carued shippes beside the armes, that they might be sene of men sailing in the sea.

30 This sepulchre which he made at Modin, standeth yet vnto this day.

*Joseph Anti.

31 ¶ Now as Tryphon wēt forthe with the yong King Antiochus, he slewe him traitterously, 32 And reigned in his stead, and crowned him self King of Asia, and broght a great plague vpon the land.

33 Simon also buylte vp the castels of Iudea, and compassed them about with high towers, & great walles, euen with towers, and gates and barres, and laid vp vitales in the strong holdes.

34 Moreouer Simon chose certeing men and sent them to King Demetrius, that he wolde discharge the lād: for all Tryphons doings were robberies.

35 Whereupon Demetrius the King answered him, and wrote vnto him after this maner, 36 DEMETRIUS the King vnto Simon the high Priest, and the friend of Kings, and to the Elders and to the nation of the Iewes sendeth greting.

37 The golden crowne, and precious stone that ye sent vnto vs, haue we receiued, and are readie to make a stedfast peace with you, and to write vnto the officers, to release you of the things wherein we made you fre.

38 So the things that we haue granted you, shalbe stable: the strong holdes which ye haue buylded, shalbe your owne.

39 Also we forgiue the ouersights, and fautes cōmitted vnto this day, and the crowne tax that ye ought vs: and where as was anie other tribute in Ierusalem, it shalbe now no tribute.

40 And they that are mete among you to be written with our men, let them be writē vp, that there may be peace betwene vs.

41 Thus the yoke of the heathē was takē frō Israel in the hundred, & seuentie yere.

42 And the people of Israel began to write in their letters, & publike instruments, THE FIRST yere of Simō, the high and chief Priest, gouernour, and prince of the Iewes.

- 43 In those dayes Simon camped against Gaza, and besieged it rounde about, where he set vp an engine of warre, and approached nere the citie, and bet a towre, and toke it.
- 44 So thei that were in the engine, leapt into the citie, and there was great trouble in the citie,
- 45 In so muche that the people of the citie rent their clothes, and climed vp vpon the walles with their wiues, and children, and cryed with a loude voyce, beseeching Simon to grant them peace, saying,
- 46 Deale not with vs according to our wickednes, but according to thy mercie.
- 47 Then Simon pitied them, and wolde fight no more against them, but put them out of the citie, and clenfed the houses, wherein the idoles were, and so entred thereunto with psalmes and thanksgiuing.
- 48 So when he had cast all the filthines out, he set suche men in it as kept the Law, and fortified it, and buylded there a dwelling place for him self.
- 49 Now, when they in the castel at Ierusalem were kept, that they colde not come forthe nor go into the countrey, nether bye nor sel, they were very hungrie, and manie of them were famished to death,
- 50 In so muche that they besought Simon to make peace with them: which he granted them, and put them out from thence, and clenfed the castel from filthines.
- 51 And vpon the thre, and twentie day of the seconde moneth in the hundreth, seuentic and one yere, they entred into it with thanksgiuing, and branches of palme trees, and with harpes, and with cymbales, and with vioules, and with psalmes, and songs, because the great enemy of Israel was overcome.
- 52 And he ordeined that the same day shulde be kept euerie yere with gladnes.
- 53 And he fortified the mount of the Temple that was beside the castel where he dwelt him self with his companie.
- 54 Simon also seing that Iohn his sonne was now a man, he made him captaine of all the hostes, & caused him to dwell in Gazaris.

CHAP. XIII.

Demetrius is overcome of Arsaces. 11 Simon being captaine, there is great quietnes in Israel. 21 The covenants of friendship with the Romans, and with the people of Sparta is renewed.

- 1 IN the hundreth, seuentic and two yere gathered King Demetrius his hoste, & departed vnto Media, to get him helpe for to fight against Tryphon.
- 2 But when Arsaces the King of Persia and Media heard, that Demetrius was entred within his borders, he sent one of his princes to take him aliue.
- 3 So he went, and ouercam the armie of Demetrius, and toke him, and broght him to Arsaces, which kept him in warde.
- 4 Thus all the land of Iuda was in rest, so long as Simon liued: for he fought the welth of his nacion: therefore were they glad to haue him for their ruler, and to do him worship alway.
- 5 Simon also wanne the citie of Ioppe to his great honour to be an hauentowne, and made it an entrance vnto the yles of the sea.
- 6 He enlarged also the borders of his people, and conquered the countreis.
- 7 He gathered vp manie of their people that were prisoners, and he had the dominion of Gazaris, and Beth-sura, and the castel, which he clenfed from filthines, & there was no man that resisted him,
- 8 So that euerie man tilled his grounde in peace, and the land gaue her frutes, & the trees gaue their frute.
- 9 The Elders sate in the open places, & consulted altogether for the commune welth, and the yong men were honorably clothed and armed.
- 10 He prouided vitailles for the cities, and all kinde of munition, so that his glorious fame was renowned vnto the end of the worlde.
- 11 He made peace thorow out the land, and Israel had perfite mirth and ioye.
- 12 For euerie man sate vnder his vine, & the fig trees, & there was no man to fray them.
- 13 There was none in the land to fight against them: for then the Kings were overcome.
- 14 He helped all those that were in aduersitie among his people: he was diligent to see the Law kept, and he toke away the vngodlie, and wicked.
- 15 He beautified the Sanctuarie, and encreased the vessels of the Temple.
- 16 When the Romans heard, and the Spartians had knowledge, that Jonathan was dead, they were very sorie.
- 17 But when they heard, that Simon his brother was made high Priest in his steade, & how he had wonne the land againe with the cities in it,
- 18 They wrote vnto him in tables of brasse, to renewe the friendship, and bonde of loue, which they had made with Iudas & Jonathan his brethren.
- 19 Which writings were red before the congregacion at Ierusalem, and this is the copie of the letters that the Spartians sent,
- 20 TH E S E N A T O R S and citie of Sparta vnto Simon the great Priest, and to the Elders, and to the Priests, and to the residue of the people of the Iewes their brethren send greting.

- & honour, we were glad of their coming,
- 21 And haue registred their ambassage in y^e publike recordes in this maner, Numenius the sonne of Antiochus, and Antipater the sonne of Iason the Iewes ambassadours came vnto vs, to renewe amitie with vs.
- 22 And it pleased the people, that the men shulde be honorably intreated, and that the copie of their ambassage shulde be registred in the publike recordes, that it might be for a memorial vnto the people of Sparta: and a copie of the same was sent to Simon the chief Priest.
- 23 After this Simon sent Numenius to Rome, with a great shield of golde of a thousand pounde weight, to confirme the friendship with them.
- 24 Which when the people vnderstode, they said, What thanks shal we recompense againe vnto Simon and his children?
- 25 For he and his brethren, and the house of his father haue stablished Israel, and ouercome their enemies, and haue confirmed the libertie thereof: therefore they wrote this in tables of brasse, and set it vpon pillars in mount Sion.
- 26 The copie of the writing is this, In the eight and twentie day of the moneth Elul in the hundredth, seuentie and two yere, in the thirde yere of Simon the high Priest.
- 27 In Saramel in the great cōgregation of the Priests, and of the people, and of the gouernours of the nacion, and of the Elders of the countrei, we wolde signifie vnto you, y^e manie battels haue bene foghten in our countrey.
- 28 Wherein Simon the sonne of Mattathias (come of the children of Iareb) and his brethren put them selues in dāger, and resisted the enemies of their nacion, that their Sanctuarie, and Law might be maintained, & did their nacion great honour.
- 29 For Jonathan gathered his nacion together, and became their high Priest, and is laid with his people.
- 30 After that wolde their enemies haue inuaded their countrey, and destroyed their land, and lay their hands on their Sanctuarie.
- 31 Then Simō resisted them, & foght for his nacion, and spent muche of his owne substance, and armed the valiant men of his nacion, and gaue them wages.
- 32 He fortified also the cities of Iudea, and Beth-sura that lyeth vpon the borders of Iudea (where the ordinance of their enemies lay sometime) and set there a garison of the Iewes.
- 33 And he fortified Ioppe, which lyeth vpon the sea, and Gazara that bordreth vpon Azotus (where the enemies dwelt afore) and there he placed Iewes, and furnished them with thigs necessarie for the reparation thereof.
- 34 Now when the people sawe the faithfulness of Simon, and to what glorie he thoght to bring his nacion vnto, they made him their gouernour, and the chief Priest, because he had done all these things, and for the vprightnes, and fidelitie that he had kept to his nacion, and that foght by all meanes to exalte his people.
- 35 For in his time they prospered wel by him, so that the heathen were taken out of their countrey, and they also which were in the citie of Dauid at Ierusalem, where they had made them a castel, out of the which they wē, and desired all things that were about the Sanctuarie, and did great hurt vnto religion.
- 36 And he set Iewes in it, and fortified it, for the assurance of the land, and citie, and raised vp the walles of Ierusalem.
- 37 And King Demetrius confirmed him in his high priesthode for these causes,
- 38 And made him one of his friends, and gaue him great honour.
- 39 For it was reported that the Romains called the Iewes their friends, and confederates, & that they honorably receiued Simons ambassadours,
- 40 And that the Iewes, & Priests cōsented, that Simon shulde be their prince, & high Priest perpetually, til God raised vp the true Prophet,
- 41 And that he shulde be their captaine, and haue the charge of the Sanctuarie, and so set men ouer the workes, and ouer the countrey, and ouer the weapons, and ouer the fortresses, and that shulde make provision for the holie things,
- 42 And that he shulde be obeyed of euery man, and that all the writings in the countrey shulde be made in his name, and that he shulde be clothed in purple, and wear golde,
- 43 And that it shulde not be lawful for anie of the people or Priests to breake anie of these things, or to withstand his wordes, or to call anie congregation in the countrey without him, or be clothed in purple, or wear a colar of gold:
- 44 And if anie did contrarie to these things or brake anie of them, he shulde be punished.
- 45 So it pleased all the people to agre that it shulde be done to Simon according vnto these wordes.
- 46 Simon also accepted it, and was content to be the high Priest, and the captaine, & the prince of the Iewes, and of the Priests, and to be the chief of all.
- 47 And they commanded to set vp this writing in tables of brasse, and to fasten it to the wall that compassed the Sanctuarie in an open place,

49 And that a copie of the same shulde be laied vp in the treasure, that Simon and his sonnes might haue it.

CHAP. XV.

2 Antiochus maketh a covenant of friendship with Simō
 11 Tryphon is persued. 15 The Romans write letters vnto Kings and nations in the defence of the Iewes.
 27 Antiochus refusing the helpe that Simon sent him, breaketh his covenant.

1 Moreouer King Antiochus the sonne of Demetrius sent letters from the yles of the sea vnto Simon the Priest, and prince of the Iewes, and to all the nation,

2 Cōtesing these wordes, ANTIOCHUS the King vnto Simon the great Priest, & to the nation of the Iewes sendeth greeting.

3 For so muche as certeine pestilent men haue vsurped y^e kingdome of our fathers, I am purposed to chalenge the realme againe, and to restore it to the olde estate: wherefore I haue gathered a great hoste, and prepared shippes of warre,

4 That I may go thorowe the country, & be aduenged of them, which haue destroyed our country, and wasted manie cities in the realme.

5 Now therefore I do confirme vnto thee all the liberties, whereof all the Kings my progenitours haue ditcharged thee, and all the painments, whereof they haue released thee.

6 And I giue thee leaue to coyne money of thine owne stampe within thy country,

7 And that Ierusalem, and the Sanctuarie be free, and that all the weapons, that thou hast prepared, and the forteresses, which thou hast buylded, & kept in thine hāds, shalbe thine.

8 And all that is due vnto the King, and all that shalbe due vnto y^e King, I forgiue it thee, from this time forth for euermore.

9 And when we haue obtained our kingdome, we wil giue thee, & thy nation & the Temple great honour, so that your honor shalbe knowne thorowe out the worlde.

10 ¶ In the hūdreth, seuentie & foure yere, went Antiochus vnto his fathers land, and all the bandes came together vnto him, so that fewe were left with Tryphon.

11 So the King Antiochus persued him, but he fled and came to Dora, which lyeth by the sea side.

12 For he sawe that troubles were towarde him, and that the armie had forsaken him.

13 Then camped Antiochus against Dora with an hundreth and twentie thousand fighting men, and eight thousand horsemen.

14 So he compassed the citie about, and the shippes came by the sea. Thus they pressed the citie by land, & by sea, in so muche that ther suffered no man to go in nor out.

15 In the meane season came Numenius, and his companie from Rome, hauing letters written vnto the Kings and countreis, wherein were contened these wordes, 16 LVCIVS THE Consul of Rome vnto King Ptolemeus sendeth greeting.

17 The ambassadours of y^e Iewes are come vnto vs as our friends and confederates from Simon the hie Priest, and from the people of the Iewes to reueue friendship, and the bonde of loue, 18 Who haue broght a shield of golde weying a thousand pounce.

19 Wherefore we thought it good to write vnto the Kings and countreis, that they shulde not go about to hurt them, nor to fight against them, nor their cities, nor their countreie, nether to mainteine their enemies against them.

20 And we were content to receiue of them the shield.

21 If therefore there be anie pestilēt felowes fled from their countrey vnto you, deliuer them vnto Simon the hie Priest, that he maye punish them according to their owne Law.

22 The same things were written to Demetrius the King, and to Attalus, and to Arrathes and to Arfaces,

23 And to all countreis, as Sampsames, and to them of Sparta, and to Delus, and to Mindus and to Sicion, and to Caria, and to Samos, and to Pamphylia, and to Lycia, and to Halicarnassus, and to Rhodus, and to Phafelis, and to Cos, and to Siden, and to Cortyna, and to Gnidon, and to Cyprus, and to Cyrene.

24 And they sent a copie of them to Simon the hie Priest.

25 ¶ So Antiochus the King cāped against Dora the seconde time euer readie to take it, and made diuers engins of warre, and kept Tryphon in, that he colde nether go in nor out.

26 Thē Simon sent him two thousand chosen men to helpe him with siluer & golde, and muche furniture.

27 Neuertheles, he wolde not receiue thē, but brake all the couenant, which he had made with him afore, and withdrewe him self from him,

28 And sent vnto him Athenobius one of his friends to commune with him, saying, Ye withholde Ioppe, and Gazara with the cattle that is at Ierusalem, the citie of my realme,

29 Whose borders ye haue destroyed and done great hurt in the land, and haue the gouernement of manie places of my kingdome.

30 Wherefore now deliuer the cities, which ye haue taken, with the tribures of the places, that ye haue rule ouer without the borders of Iudca,

31 Or els giue me for them five hundred talents of siluer, and for the harme that ye haue done, and for the tributes of the places other five hundred talents: if not, we wil come, and fight against you.

32 So Athenobius the Kings friend came to Ierusalem, & when he sawe the honour of Simon, and the cubbert of golde and siluer plate, and so great preparacion, he was astonished, and tolde him the Kings message.

33 Then answered Simon, and said vnto him, We haue nether taken other mens laids, nor withholden that which apperteineth to others: but our fathers heritage, which our enemies had vnrighteously in possession a certeine time.

34 But when we had occasion, we recovered the inheritance of our fathers.

Or, complainest succerit.

35 And whereas thou requirest Ioppe and Gazara, they did great harme to our people, and through our countrey, yet wil we giue an hundred talents for them. But Athenobius answered him not one worde,

36 But turned againe angrie vnto the King, and tolde him all these wordes, and the dignitie of Simon, with all that he had seene: and the King was verie angrie.

37 ¶ In the meane time fled Tryphon by shippe vnto Orthosias.

38 Then the King made Cendebeus captaine of the sea coast, and gaue him bandes of footemen and horsemen,

39 And commanded him to remoue his hoste towarde Iudca, and to buylde vp Cedron, & to fortifie the gates, & to warre against the people: but his King pursued Tryphon.

40 So Cendebeus came vnto Iamnia, and began to vex the people, and to inuade Iudca, and to take the people prisoners, & to slay them.

41 And he buylde vp Cedron, where he set horsemen and garisons, that they might make outrodes by the waies of Iudca, as the King had commanded him.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Cendebeus the captaine of Antiochus hoste is put to flight by the sonnes of Simon. 11 Ptolemeus the sonne of Abubus killeth Simon and his two sonnes at a banquet. 23 Iohn killeth them that lye in waite for his life.

Ioseph Antiq. 13. chap. 12.

1 Then came Iohn vp from Gazara, & tolde Simon his father, what Cendebeus had done.

2 So Simon called two of his eldest sonnes, Iudas and Iohn, and said vnto them, I, and my brethren, and my fathers house, haue euer from our youth vnto this day fought against his enemies of Israel, & the matters haue had good successe vnder our hands, & we haue deliuered Israel often times.

3 But I am now olde, & ye by Gods mercie are of a sufficient age: be ye therefore instead of me, & my brother, & go forthe & fight for our nacion, & the helpe of heauen be with you.

4 So he chose twentie thousand fighting men of the countrey with the horsemen, which went forthe against Cendebeus, & rested at Modin.

5 In the morning they arose, and went into the plaine field: & beholde, a mightie great hoste came against them bothe of footemen, & horsemen: but there was a riuer betwixt them.

6 And Iohn ranged his armie ouer against him, and when he sawe that the people was afrayed to go ouer the riuer, he went ouer first him self, and the men seeing him, passed through after him.

7 Then he deuided his men, & set the horsemen in the middes of the footemen.

8 For their enemies horsemen were verie manie: but when they blew the trumpets, Cendebeus fled with his hoste, whereof manie were slayne, & the remnant gate them to the forteresse.

9 Then was Iudas Iohns brother wounded: but Iohn followed after them, til he came to Cedron, which Cendebeus had buyt.

10 Also they fled vnto the towres, that were in the fields of Azotus, and those did Iohn burne with fyre: thus were there slaine two thousand men of them: so he returned peaceably into the land of Iuda.

11 ¶ Now in the field of Iericho was Ptolemeus the sonne of Abubus made captaine, and he had abundance of siluer and golde.

12 (For he had married the daughter of the hie Priest.)

13 Therefore he waxed proude in his minde, and thought to rule the land, & thought to slay Simon and his sonnes by deceit.

14 Now as Simon went about thorow the cities of the countrey, & studied carefully for them, he came downe to Iericho with Mattathias, and Iudas his sonnes in the hundredth, seuentie & seuen yere, in the eleuenth moneth, which is the moneth Sabat.

15 Then the sonne of Abubus receiued them by treason into a litle holde, called Dochus, which he had buyt, where he made them a great banquet, and had hid men there.
